Plaintiffs, Adelphia Communications Corporation ("Adelphia") and its affiliated debtors and debtors in possession in case numbers 02-12834 (REG) through 02-41957 (REG) (the "Debtors") and the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors of Adelphia Communications Corporation and its affiliated debtors (the "Committee"), for their complaint against Defendants, allege, upon information and belief, as follows:

SUMMARY OF ACTION

1. This action seeks to redress Defendants' knowing participation, substantial assistance and complicity in one of the most serious cases of systematic corporate looting and breach of fiduciary duty in American history.

2. The fraud at Adelphia and its affiliated Debtors did not involve any sophisticated accounting gimmicks. To the contrary, it involved simple larceny, but on a massive scale. The Rigas Family¹ used the Debtors as its piggy bank to fund personal expenses at will and to maintain voting control over Adelphia. The Rigas Family siphoned away over $3.4 billion from the Debtors -- funds knowingly and eagerly loaned by Defendants -- rendering the Debtors bankrupt and insolvent.

3. The Rigas Family's scheme could not have succeeded without Defendants' assistance. Certain of the Defendants -- the Co-Borrowing Lenders -- funded the fraud by extending undisclosed senior loans to the Rigas Family secured by the Debtors' assets. Other Defendants -- the Investment Banks, each of which was affiliated with a Co-Borrowing Lender -- solicited the purchase of debt and equity securities junior in right of payment to their senior loans without disclosing the pervasive fraud suffusing the Debtors' business.

4. The Rigas Family's principal tools in their fraudulent scheme, and their primary source of ill-gotten gains from that scheme, were the syndicated loans known as "Co-Borrowing Facilities." The structure of those facilities was unprecedented for a major public company such as Adelphia: each "co-borrower" -- whether an indirect Adelphia subsidiary or an unaffiliated entity owned by the Rigas Family -- could borrow the entire amount of the facilities (up to approximately $5.6 billion) without regard to its ability to repay and with all other co-borrowers being jointly and severally liable to repay the loans.

5. Neither the Rigas Family nor the Co-Borrowing Lenders created a borrowing structure that held the respective co-borrowers accountable based on appropriate borrowing capacity, actual borrowings and their balance sheets. No attempt was made to recognize -- much less respect -- the corporate separateness and disparate financial resources of the Debtors and entities owned by the Rigas Family. Instead, the Rigas Family and certain of the Co-Borrowing Lenders structured the Co-Borrowing Facilities knowing that entities controlled by the Rigas Family were entitled to draw -- and in fact did draw -- billions of dollars under the Co-Borrowing Facilities; that such entities owned a disproportionately small amount of the assets from which the Co-Borrowing Lenders could realistically expect repayment; and that such entities in fact would not be able to repay their borrowings, but instead would saddle the Debtors with a massive bill for loans that the Debtors did not utilize.

6. The primary purpose and the plain effect of each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities at issue in this action was to use the Debtors' assets to give the Rigas Family access to billions of dollars that only the Debtors would have the wherewithal to repay, and to enable the Rigas Family to maintain control over the Debtors by using a substantial portion of those dollars to acquire Adelphia stock and other securities. The very structure of the Co-Borrowing Facilities -- a structure that the Co-Borrowing Lenders created and approved -- provided the principal means by which the Rigas Family's looting could and did occur. Moreover, the Co-Borrowing Lenders actually knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the looting occurred as soon as the Co-Borrowing Facilities closed and that it continued thereafter.

7. Defendants knew that the Rigas Family used the proceeds of the Co-Borrowing Facilities and other loans made available to them to enrich themselves at the Debtors' expense and to maintain voting control of Adelphia. The Rigas Family used the Co-Borrowing Lenders' funds to, among other things:

- acquire nearly $2 billion of securities issued by Adelphia and underwritten by certain of the Defendant Investment Banks;
- repay approximately $252 million of margin loans owed by Highland Communications, an entity owned by the Rigas Family, to certain of the Defendants' private banking or brokerage affiliates;
- acquire for its own account more than $700 million in cable television systems;
- fund expenses related to its privately-held Buffalo Sabres professional hockey team;
- construct a golf course on land owned by the Rigas Family; and

- cause the Debtors to enter into fraudulent transactions with certain Rigas Family-owned businesses.

These transactions did not benefit the Debtors. To the contrary, the Rigas Family designed these transactions to fraudulently secrete assets from the Debtors to the Rigas Family's personal interests.

8. Each of the Defendants actually knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Rigas Family was using the Co-Borrowing Facilities to defraud the Debtors, their creditors and other stakeholders. Since well before the closing of the Co-Borrowing Facilities until shortly before the Debtors' bankruptcy filings, many of the Defendants provided significant underwriting, investment banking, advisory and other financial services to the Debtors and the Rigas Family. As a result of their extensive relationship with the Debtors and the Rigas Family, these Defendants obtained confidential information concerning the financial affairs of the Debtors and the Rigas Family. In addition, before each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities closed, the Rigas Family disclosed to the Co-Borrowing Lenders that hundreds of millions of dollars of the loan proceeds would be used to fund personal expenses and investments of the Rigas Family. Defendants knew, or recklessly chose to disregard, the intended fraudulent uses of the Co-Borrowing Facilities.

9. Worse still, the Co-Borrowing Lenders lent the Debtors billions of dollars with knowledge or reckless disregard of the fact that the Rigas Family was causing the Debtors to fraudulently conceal from the public and other creditors up to $3.4 billion of their balance sheet liabilities under the Co-Borrowing Facilities. Indeed, while each of the Defendants had access to non-public information that disclosed the actual amount of Adelphia's liabilities under the Co-Borrowing Facilities and other bank debt, the Investment Banks induced other creditors to loan the Debtors billions of dollars based on fraudulent financial statements that grossly understated such obligations. None of these financial statements disclosed the true amount of debt that had been drawn by the Rigas Family (but for which the Debtors were fully liable) under the Co-Borrowing Facilities. Despite their knowledge of the fraudulent structure of the Co-Borrowing Facilities and the Rigas Family's fraudulent conduct, the Co-Borrowing Lenders approved each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities and continued to authorize extensions of credit thereunder.

10. The Agent Banks' quid pro quo for funding the Co-Borrowing Facilities was the Rigas Family's promise of lucrative underwriting and other fees to the Investment Banks (each an affiliate of an Agent Bank). To obtain these fees, several of the Agent Banks violated their own lending policies by extending credit in amounts far exceeding institutional exposure limits and by funding the facilities despite the Debtors' massive debt load, which far exceeded that of its competitors. Aware of obvious red flags, many of the Co-Borrowing Lenders merely rubber-stamped the Co-Borrowing Facilities so that their affiliated Investment Banks could earn hundreds of millions of dollars in fees.

11. Defendants BofA, Citibank, Deutsche Bank and others had other dubious reasons for approving the Co-Borrowing Facilities. These banks or their affiliates had advanced members of the Rigas Family hundreds of millions of dollars of personal margin loans secured by Adelphia stock. By approving the Co-Borrowing Facilities and draws thereunder, these Margin Lenders knew that they could rely on the Debtors' ability to repay the margin loans if the Rigas Family could not. When Adelphia's stock plummeted -- after the public disclosure of the fraud in March 2002 -- the Co-Borrowing Lenders continued to fund the Co-Borrowing Facilities despite (or, in some cases, because of) their knowledge that the proceeds would be used to repay Rigas Family margin calls at the expense of other creditors. Just like the fraudulent uses of the Co-Borrowing Facilities, each of these margin loan payments was made with the intent to defraud creditors, who received no consideration from these transfers.

12. The fraud at Adelphia, began -- but certainly did not end -- with the Co-Borrowing Facilities. The Debtors used a central cash management system that, as Defendants were well aware, was a vehicle for the Rigas Family to commingle the Debtors' funds with those of unaffiliated entities owned by the Rigas Family, and ultimately to misappropriate those funds. After May 1999, the date the first of the relevant Co-Borrowing Facilities closed, Defendants knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Rigas Family used a significant portion of the proceeds of other bank loans for the benefit of the Rigas Family. The Non-Co-Borrowing Lenders -- many of whom also were Co-Borrowing Lenders -- also approved draws directly from Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities to the Rigas Family that they knew did not benefit the Debtors. Several of these loans, although made to the Debtors, were earmarked for the immediate transfer to bank lenders to Rigas Family entities in satisfaction of those entities' independent obligations.

13. The Agent Banks and Investment Banks saw the Debtors as enormous consumers of financial services and aggressively sought to exploit the Debtors' needs for their personal gain. These Defendants provided extensive advisory services to the Debtors and injected themselves into a position of confidence and trust wherein they offered counsel on numerous business and financial issues. These same Defendants, once having assumed fiduciary duties to the Debtors, almost immediately proceeded to breach those duties by, among other things, facilitating the Debtors' bankruptcy and insolvency.

14. The Debtors' Chapter 11 bankruptcy filings resulted from the massive fraud of the Rigas Family. The Debtors are deeply insolvent and their unsecured creditors are faced with the prospect that billions of dollars of their claims will not be repaid. In stark contrast, parties to the fraud, the Co-Borrowing Lenders and other Defendants, now seek to stand first in line to be repaid in full in the Debtors' bankruptcy proceedings. This fundamental injustice must be redressed. Accordingly, by this action, the Debtors and the Committee, on behalf of the Debtors and their estates, seek, among other things, to: (i) recover as fraudulent transfers the principal and interest paid by the Debtors on the Co-Borrowing Facilities, (ii) avoid as fraudulent obligations the Debtors' obligations, if any, to repay outstanding Co-Borrowing Facilities and other loans made by Defendants, (iii) recover damages for breaches of fiduciary duties to the Debtors and for aiding and abetting fraud and breaches of fiduciary duties by the Rigas Family, (iv) equitably subordinate, disallow or recharacterize each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders' claims in the Debtors' bankruptcy proceedings, (v) avoid and recover certain fraudulent and preferential transfers made to certain of the Defendants, and (vi) recover damages for violations of the Bank Holding Company Act.

FACTS

A. The Rigas Family's Ownership And Control Of The Debtors.

412. In or about 1952, John Rigas entered the cable business by acquiring a small cable system located in Coudersport, Pennsylvania. Over the next fifty years, this company, now known as Adelphia Communications Corporation, became the sixth largest cable provider in the United States.

413. At all relevant times, members of the Rigas Family, principally John Rigas and his three sons, Timothy, Michael and James Rigas (collectively, the "Rigas Family"), with substantial assistance from two senior Adelphia executives, James Brown ("Brown") and Michael Mulcahey ("Mulcahey"), held all of the most senior positions of the Debtors. John Rigas was Adelphia's President and Chief Executive Officer; Timothy Rigas was Adelphia's Executive Vice-President, Chief Financial Officer, Chief Accounting Officer and Treasurer; Michael Rigas was Adelphia's Executive Vice-President in charge of operations; and James Rigas was Adelphia's Executive Vice-President in Charge of Strategic Planning. The Rigas Family also controlled the operations of each of Adelphia's direct and indirect subsidiaries and the RFEs, and made, or approved of, the major business decisions on behalf of the Debtors. The Rigas Family caused the Debtors to engage in all acts or omissions alleged herein to have been made by the Debtors, with the assistance of Brown, Mulcahey and other senior executives of the Debtors who were complicit in the fraud.

414. The Rigas Family also maintained a majority of the voting power of Adelphia's shares through its ownership of nearly all of Adelphia's issued and outstanding Class B shares of common stock, each of which carried ten times the voting power of an Adelphia Class A share. At all relevant times, Adelphia's Class A stock and debt securities (along with certain debt securities issued by indirect Adelphia subsidiaries) were publicly traded and listed on one or more national exchanges.

415. Prior to each of their resignations in May 2002, members of the Rigas Family had a majority of the nine seats on Adelphia's Board of Directors and occupied all of its senior management positions. John Rigas was Chairman of the Board of Adelphia, and Michael, Timothy and James Rigas each were directors of Adelphia. A relative of the Rigas Family, Peter Venetis, also was a director and under the control of the Rigas Family.

416. The Rigas Family's ubiquitous position within Adelphia enabled it to conceal the nature and extent of its fraudulent conduct from the independent members of Adelphia's Board of Directors, creditors (other than Defendants) and other constituents. No aspect of the fraud was revealed to Adelphia's independent directors or officers who could have and would have acted to stop the fraud had it been disclosed to them prior to 2002. Indeed, when the fraud was disclosed to the independent directors in March 2002, they acted swiftly to investigate it and ultimately to terminate the Rigas Family's management of the Debtors.

B. The Debtors' Credit Facilities.

417. Beginning in 1998, the Debtors and the Rigas Family engaged in an acquisition campaign to expand the Debtors' subscriber base and to become one of the largest cable companies in the country. The Debtors financed these acquisitions by incurring billions of dollars of bank debt and through other debt and equity offerings. As more fully described below, however, the Debtors and the Rigas Family used the bank debt they incurred to perpetrate a massive fraud on creditors other than Defendants. The bank debt facilities outstanding as of the Petition Date are identified below.

441. Upon information and belief, each of the Olympus Agent Banks conducted significant due diligence on the Debtors' businesses prior to closing the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility and assisted the Debtors in preparing an offering memorandum to solicit other Co-Borrowing Lenders to participate in the facility. Upon information and belief, each of the Olympus Agent Banks received compliance certificates from the Debtors evidencing the amounts outstanding under the facility and information about the intended uses of each of the borrowings under the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility. Upon information and belief, the Olympus Agent Banks were required to, and, in fact, did transmit this information to each of the Olympus Lenders in the ordinary course of business.

442. Other Defendants participating in the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility include: CIBC, Credit Industriel, Merrill Lynch Debt Fund, Merrill Lynch Trust, Merrill Lynch Portfolio, Merrill Lynch Floating Rate Fund, Natexis, Riviera Funding, Stanwich, Sumitomo, Toronto Dominion, and one or more of the Assignees.

443. As of the Petition Date, approximately $1.3 billion was outstanding under the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility.

C. The Rigas Family Used The Co-Borrowing Facilities To Loot The Debtors.

1. The Unprecedented Structure Of The Co-Borrowing Facilities.

444. The Co-Borrowing Facilities were at the heart of the fraud perpetrated by the Rigas Family: these facilities provided the Rigas Family with the means and opportunity to loot the Debtors and to hide their misconduct from constituents other than Defendants.

445. Pursuant to each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities, each member of the borrowing group in the facility (a "co-borrower") -- whether a subsidiary of Adelphia or the Rigas Family -- could borrow up to the entire amount of the applicable Co-Borrowing Facility. Each co-borrower was jointly and severally liable for all amounts borrowed by any of the other co-borrowers regardless of whether it received any benefit from such borrowings. The provision of billions of dollars of co-borrowing loans to unaffiliated entities under these circumstances was unprecedented. Permitting the RFEs to borrow such substantial amounts -- which they clearly could not repay -- against the credit of the Co-Borrowing Debtors served no legitimate corporate purpose for the Debtors.

446. Thus, the Debtors and certain of the Co-Borrowing Lenders structured each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities to leverage the Debtors' credit to provide the Rigas Family with access to billions of dollars of loans. Without the Debtors' credit support, the Rigas Family could not have obtained loans of this magnitude. Indeed, upon information and belief, the first of the relevant Co-Borrowing Facilities was consummated because the Rigas Family had exhausted its borrowing capacity under several margin loan accounts held at SSB and other Defendants. Moreover, upon information and belief, each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders and the Investment Banks knew that the Co-Borrowing Facilities would be available to finance the Rigas Family's purchases of Adelpia securities and other asset acquisitions, to pay off margin loans to the Rigas Family and for other personal uses by the Rigas Family.

447. The money lent to the RFE co-borrowers conferred no benefit on the Debtors. From the outset, it was clear to the Rigas Family and the Co-Borrowing Lenders that the Debtors would not receive any benefit from those substantial portions of the Co-Borrowing Facilities drawn down by the RFEs.

448. The RFEs were significantly less creditworthy than the Debtor co-borrowers. The value of cable providers such as the Debtors and the cable RFEs -- and hence their borrowing capacity -- is measured principally by the cash flow generated by their respective subscriber bases. One of the standard valuation methodologies used in the cable industry is a multiple of the number of a company's subscribers. Prior to the closing of each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities, it was clear to the Co-Borrowing Lenders that the RFE co-borrowers had insufficient assets (i.e., subscribers) to repay their respective share of the amounts initially drawn and likely to be drawn thereafter.

449. Indeed, the RFEs contributed approximately 5% of the subscribers to the Co-Borrowing Facilities despite being entitled to borrow all of the funds thereunder and despite ultimately drawing nearly 60% of the funds available under those facilities.

2. The Debtors And The Rigas Family Intended That The Co-Borrowing Facilities Would Be Used For Fraudulent Purposes.

a. UCA/HHC.

450. The Rigas Family did not hide their intent to use the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowers Facility to defraud the Debtors and their creditors. To the contrary, the Rigas Family disclosed its fraudulent intent to the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders. Discussing the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility before closing, the Debtors informed certain of the Agent Banks that they “specifically intended a portion of the facility to be distributed to the Rigas Family for purposes of participating in the upcoming [Adelphia] equity offering.” (emphasis added).

451. Upon information and belief, the Debtors and the Agent Banks informed the other Co-Borrowing Lenders of this intent before closing. Thus, the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders -- who knew that the UCA/HHC Debtors received no benefit from loans to the Rigas Family or the RFEs -- acknowledged and agreed that $250 million of the $850 million of the initial proceeds from the facility would be used by the Rigas Family to purchase equity securities from Adelphia for their personal account. The Debtors also disclosed that the RFE co-borrowers under the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility were not owned by the Debtors.

452. Prior to the closing of the UCA/HCC Co-Borrowing Facility, the Debtors and the Rigas Family also disclosed to the UCA/HCC Co-Borrowing Lenders that the assets of the RFEs participating in the facility would be disproportionately small compared to those of the UCA/HHC Debtors. Of the 395,000 subscribers owned by the borrowers participating in the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility, the sole RFE member of the borrowing group, Hilton Head, contributed just 72,000 subscribers, or approximately 18%. Nonetheless, as of the Petition Date, Hilton Head, an RFE, had drawn approximately $642 million of the $831 million outstanding under the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility, or 77% of the amount borrowed. No prudent lender would have lent Hilton Head $642 million (or more) without the credit support of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors.

453. None of the amounts drawn by, or on behalf of, Hilton Head benefited any of the Debtors.

b. CCH.

454. The Rigas Family also announced its intent to use the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility to defraud the Debtors. The Debtors and the Rigas Family expressly advised the CCH Agent Banks that they intended to use the proceeds from the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility to acquire assets for the personal account of the Rigas Family. In a written invitation to participate in the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility, Adelphia executive James Brown stated:

The use of proceeds for this facility will be primarily to fund Adelphia's purchase of the Cleveland, Ohio cable system from Cablevision Systems Corporation ($990 mm), to fund Adelphia's purchase of certain cable assets from Prestige Communications ($700mm) and to fund the Rigas families [sic] purchase of certain cable assets from Prestige Communications ($400 mm).

Letter from James Brown to Agent Banks, dated February 17, 2000 (emphasis added). Thus, from the outset, the CCH Agent Banks knew that the Debtors intended to draw hundreds of millions of dollars from the facility at closing for the sole benefit of the RFE co-borrowers.

455. Upon information and belief, the Debtors and the Rigas Family also disclosed to each of the other CCH Lenders that (i) the RFE co-borrowers were not affiliated with the Debtors, and (ii) the Rigas Family intended to use a portion of the funds under the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility to fund the Rigas Family's personal acquisition of the Prestige Systems. Indeed, based on the substantial participation of CCH Lenders that had participated in the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility, the CCH Lenders also knew that the Rigas Family had been using the proceeds of other co-borrowing loans for fraudulent purposes.

456. Moreover, the offering memorandum for the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility informed the CCH Lenders that the number of cable subscribers owned by the RFE co-borrower was disproportionately small compared to the number of subscribers owned by the CCH Debtors and patently insufficient to support repayment of the loans. Of the 1,532,814 subscribers owned by the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility borrowing group, the sole RFE member, Highland Prestige, contributed just 55,831 subscribers, or approximately 3.6% of the total assets supporting the loan. Nonetheless, as of the Petition Date, Highland Prestige had drawn approximately $1.66 billion of the $2.48 billion outstanding under the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility, or 67% of the amount borrowed. No prudent lender would have lent Highland Prestige $1.66 billion (or more) without the credit support of the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors.

457. None of the amounts drawn by Highland Prestige benefited any of the Debtors.

c. Olympus.

458. The Rigas Family did not conceal its intention to use the Olympic Co-Borrowing Facility for its personal benefit. The offering memorandum distributed to the Olympus Lenders specifically stated that: (i) the initial proceeds would be used to pay at least $152 million of indebtedness owed by RFEs, and (ii) the RFEs were unaffiliated entities. Indeed, based on the substantial overlapping participation of lenders from the UCA/HHC and CCH Co-Borrowing Facilities, the Olympus Lenders knew that the Rigas Family had been using the proceeds of other Co-Borrowing Facilities for fraudulent purposes as more fully described above.

459. The offering memorandum for the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility advised the Olympus Lenders that the number of cable subscribers owned by the RFE co-borrowers was disproportionately small compared to the Olympus Debtors and patently insufficient to support repayment of the loans. Of the 1,566,847 subscribers contributed to the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility borrowing group as collateral, the two RFE members of the borrowing group, Highland Video and CCT, contributed just 61,335 subscribers, or approximately 3.9% of the total assets supporting the loan. Nonetheless, as of the Petition Date, Highland Video and CCT had drawn approximately $751.5 million of the $1.27 billion outstanding under the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility, or 59% of the amount borrowed. No prudent lender would have lent Highland Video and CCT $751 million (or more) without the credit guaranty of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors.

460. None of the amounts drawn by Highland Video and CCT benefited any of the Debtors.

3. The Fraudulent Uses Of The Co-Borrowing Facilities By The Rigas Family.

a. The Rigas Family's Purchase Of $1.9 Billion Of Adelphia Securities.

461. From late 1998 until their resignations in May 2002, the Rigas Family engaged in at least eleven transactions for the purchase of approximately $1.9 billion in securities issued by Adelphia, including common stock and convertible bonds. The Rigas Family funded many of these transactions directly from the proceeds of the Co-Borrowing Facilities. Each of these transactions was fraudulent because, as discussed infra, the Debtors received no consideration. In fact, the Debtors suffered significant harm from these transactions because the Debtors issued stock to the Rigas Family for zero net value, when such stock could have been sold to third parties to raise fresh capital. As discussed infra, the Rigas Family compounded this harm by using these purchases to create the appearance that the Debtors' liabilities had decreased, when, in fact, they had not.

b. The Debtors' Payment Of $252 Million Of Margin Loans On Behalf Of The Rigas Family.

462. From July 2001 until May 2002, the Rigas Family used approximately $252 million from the Co-Borrowing Facilities to make payments on margin loans owed by the members of the Rigas Family on personal margin accounts maintained at Defendants BofA, SSB, Deutsche Bank Securities and Goldman Sachs (the "Margin Lenders"). The Adelphia securities that the Rigas Family purchased with co-borrowing funds secured amounts owed under these margin accounts. A significant amount of the margin payments made by the Rigas Family with funds drawn from the Co-Borrowing Facilities -- approximately $166 million -- occurred after March 27, 2002, the date on which the Rigas Family publicly disclosed its fraudulent concealment of the true amount of Adelphia's liability under the Co-Borrowing Facilities. The Margin Lenders (or their affiliates) that were Co-Borrowing Lenders knew prior to their receipt of the margin payments for the personal benefit of the Rigas Family that such payments came from Co-Borrowing Facilities.

c. The Rigas Family's Purchase Of $710 Million Of Cable Systems.

463. On or about July 5, 2000, Highland Holdings, an RFE, acquired various cable systems in Georgia owned by Prestige Communications, Inc. (the "Prestige Acquisition"). The Prestige Acquisition involved various transfers of funds and other assets by which the Rigas Family, through Highland Holdings, consummated the Prestige Acquisition with approximately $365 million of funds borrowed from the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility, for which the CCH Debtors remained liable.

464. On or about July 2, 2001, Highland Holdings also acquired various cable systems from the Estate of Bill Daniels (the "Daniels Acquisition"). The Daniels Acquisition also involved various transfers of funds and other assets by which the Rigas Family, through Highland Holdings, consummated the Daniels Acquisition with approximately $345 million of funds borrowed from the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility, for which the CCH Debtors remained liable.

d. Other Uses By The Rigas Family Of Funds From The Co-Borrowing Facilities.

465. The Rigas Family also used funds from the Co-Borrowing Facilities to finance certain non-Adelphia related ventures and to cause Adelphia to enter into other fraudulent transactions with RFEs.

466. For example, The Rigas Family used at least a portion of the Co-Borrowing Facilities to fund $175 million in expenses for the Buffalo Sabres professional hockey team (formerly owned by an RFE), and to fund expenditures relating to the development of a golf course at Wending Creek Farms on Rigas Family land.

467. The Rigas Family also caused Adelphia to use at least a portion of the Co-Borrowing Facilities to purchase in non-arms length transactions approximately $40 million in furniture and to purchase timber rights from RFEs.

468. As of the Petition Date, the Rigas Family fraudulently had used at least $3.4 billion of the $5.6 billion available under the Co-Borrowing Facilities for their own personal enrichment, to the detriment of the Debtors and their other creditors. As more fully discussed infra, the Co-Borrowing Lenders knew of or recklessly disregarded the Rigas Family's fraudulent scheme.

4. The Rigas Family's Fraudulent Use Of Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities.

469. The Rigas Family's fraudulent use of the Debtors' credit facilities did not end with the Co-Borrowing Facilities. The Rigas Family used at least one of the Debtors' other credit facilities to fund personal expenses. In contrast to the Co-Borrowing Facilities, however, these other credit facilities did not explicitly authorize RFEs to access such credit.

470. The Century-TCI Lenders knew, or recklessly disregarded, the fact that the proceeds of their loans were being used to illegally shift value from the Debtors to the Rigas Family without consideration. In this regard, on October 30, 2001, October 31, 2001, and November 1, 2001, the Debtors drew a total of $490 million from the Century-TCI Facility; upon information and belief, the Rigas Family used these proceeds to pay for purchases of common stock and convertible notes for $408 million in October and November 2001. At or about that time, the Co-Borrowing Facilities were fully drawn. Adelphia therefore requested from Citibank, as the administrative agent for the Century-TCI Credit Facility, a previously unplanned $350 million draw; Adelphia also drew from Century-TCI another $60 million on October 31, and another $80 million on November 1.

471. Although the Rigas Family acquired $408 million of Adelphia securities in October and November 2001, in reality, the Rigas Family did not pay $408 million or any other amount to Adelphia. Instead, the Rigas Family merely recycled Century-TCI funds to consummate this stock purchase rather than contributing fresh capital. The Century-TCI Lenders knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the $408 million draw from the Century-TCI Facility and other draws were used by the Rigas Family for fraudulent purposes.

D. The Rigas Family Concealed From Creditors Other Than Defendants The True Amount Outstanding Under The Co-Borrowing Facilities.

472. The Rigas Family's intent to defraud creditors is evidenced by their concealment of the true amounts outstanding under the Co-Borrowing Facilities. In 2000, the Debtors' debt burden caused significant reductions in the Debtors' credit ratings, thereby jeopardizing the Rigas Family's ability to access the capital markets. In August 2000, Moody's observed that the Debtors desperately needed a "deleveraging" event. Consequently, the Rigas Family -- with Defendants' knowledge or reckless disregard -- concocted a ploy to convince the public that Adelphia was deleveraging when its actual debt load was increasing because of the Rigas Family's illicit uses of the Co-Borrowing Facilities. As more fully explained below, while the Debtors -- acting by and through the Rigas Family -- concealed the true extent of their borrowings from other creditors, the Co-Borrowing Lenders knew the correct amounts all along.

1. The Debtors Simply Omitted The RFE Uses Of The Co-Borrowing Facilities And Other Amounts From Their Balance Sheets.

473. At no time prior to March 27, 2002 did the Debtors disclose the true extent of their liabilities under the Co-Borrowing Facilities in filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). Since May 1999 -- the date the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility closed -- Adelphia's SEC filings have understated the amount owed under the Co-Borrowing Facilities by billions of dollars. Moreover, Adelphia and its indirect subsidiaries Arahova Communications, Inc. and Olympus Communications, L.P. each had publicly-traded debt securities. The Rigas Family also caused the SEC filings of these indirect Adelphia subsidiaries to understate the billions of dollars outstanding under the Co-Borrowing Facilities.

474. The Rigas Family consistently omitted from the Debtors' public financial statements amounts borrowed for the exclusive benefit of the RFEs. Yet the Debtors, the Rigas Family and Defendants knew that Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP") require a party liable for a debt (whether on a co-borrowing basis or otherwise) to disclose the entire amount of the debt in financial statements regardless of whether the debt was incurred for the benefit of another borrower; GAAP only permits exclusion of debt that has been extinguished. No amounts concealed by the Rigas Family had ever been extinguished.

2. The Fraudulent Use Of The CMS.

475. Until May 2002, when the Rigas Family relinquished control of the Debtors, the Debtors used their cash management system ("CMS") to control cash transactions involving each of the Debtors and the RFEs. The CMS was a key instrumentality of the fraud. The use of a central cash management system governing both a public company and unaffiliated entities was unprecedented. Defendants knew or recklessly disregarded the structure and fraudulent use of the CMS. Indeed, it was yet another red flag that they ignored.

476. Defendant Wachovia -- an agent bank or lender in all of the Debtors' credit facilities -- maintained the CMS at all relevant times and the Rigas Family controlled it. The CMS was a central depository (in reality, the Rigas Family's personal piggy bank) for cash generated or obtained by the Debtors from all sources (including borrowings under each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities, the Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities and the proceeds from the Debtors' debt and equity securities offerings). The Debtors commingled all of their cash with that of the RFEs in the CMS. After the Debtors deposited cash into the CMS, "ownership" of the cash could be transferred through simple journal entries to any RFE. The cash also could be transferred from the CMS to any of a number of bank accounts held in the name of the RFEs.

477. Through the CMS, the Rigas Family misappropriated over $3.4 billion from the Co-Borrowing Facilities for its own benefit. The Debtors' banking and wire transfer records reflect that the Rigas Family obtained funds from the Co-Borrowing Facilities by transferring funds from the CMS to an account maintained at Wachovia by Highland Holdings or some other RFE, followed by a transfer from the RFE either directly to individual members of the Rigas Family or to other RFEs, many of which also maintained accounts at Wachovia. Typically, these transfers occurred on the same business day. Thus, on any given business day in which an RFE received cash transfers from the Debtors, the RFE's account balance at Wachovia would fluctuate from zero, to the amount transferred in from Adelphia, and back to zero after the RFE funneled those funds out to the Rigas Family. Defendant Wachovia, an agent bank or lender under each of the Debtors' credit facilities (including the Co-Borrowing Facilities), thus was in a unique position to observe the fraudulent transfer of funds from the Debtors to the Rigas Family. In accordance with its role as an Agent Bank, Wachovia, upon information and belief, shared its knowledge of these transactions with other Co-Borrowing and NCB Lenders.

3. The Rigas Family Falsely Created The Appearance Of A "Deleveraging".

478. The Rigas Family was not content with merely concealing the amounts borrowed by the RFEs under the Co-Borrowing Facilities. In response to market concerns about the Debtors' increasing debt load, the Rigas Family publicly announced that it would be purchasing Adelpia stock to assist the Debtors with deleveraging -- i.e., significantly reducing debt. At all relevant times, these statements were fraudulent because Adelpia's leverage was increasing and, as discussed infra, the Rigas Family was using its acquisition of Adelpia's securities with Co-Borrowing funds to conceal the Debtors' increasing leverage. Defendants knew of and participated in this scheme through their approval of Co-Borrowing Facility draws to fund the Rigas Family's acquisitions of Adelpia's securities, through their underwriting of debt and equity offerings in which the fraudulent purchases occurred, and through their knowledge and disregard that the purported deleveraging was a sham.

479. The basic structure of these bogus securities purchase transactions involved:

- ? a draw down by an RFE under a Co-Borrowing Facility in the amount of the purchase price of the securities to be purchased;
- ? a transfer from the RFE co-borrower to an RFE that was not a co-borrower;
- ? a transfer from the non-co-borrowing RFE to the Debtors;
- ? Adelpia's issuance of securities to the non-co-borrowing RFE -- i.e., the Rigas Family; and
- ? the Debtors' use of proceeds of the Rigas Family's securities purchase to pay down outstanding debt under the Co-Borrowing Facilities.

480. As a result of these transactions, the Debtors booked an increase in a shareholders' equity account in the amount it had received from the RFE, and recorded a correlating decrease in the debt outstanding under one or more of the Co-Borrowing Facilities. The decrease, however, was fraudulent. Because the Debtors still remained liable for the co-borrowing funds used by the RFE to purchase Adelpia securities (but failed to disclose that liability), the purpose and effect of the transaction was simply to move the debt purportedly paid down under the Co-Borrowing Facility off of the Debtors' books and onto the books of the co-borrower RFE in violation of GAAP. Of course, under the terms of the Co-Borrowing Facilities, the Co-Borrowing Debtors remained liable for all amounts drawn by the RFE co-borrowers despite the Rigas Family's fraudulent bookkeeping.

481. From 1999 through 2001, the Investment Banks, by and through analysts, published a series of reports announcing the Rigas Family's purported campaign to delever the Debtors. These reports facilitated the fraud by disseminating the Rigas Family's misleading intentions and actions and verifying them. The Investment Banks knew or recklessly disregarded that the Rigas Family made bogus equity contributions to Adelpia, concealed the actual level of debt and misrepresented their efforts to delever the Debtors.

E. Defendants Knew Of Or Recklessly Disregarded The Fraud.

1. The Rigas Family Specifically Informed Defendants Of Their Fraudulent Activities.

482. Although the Rigas Family concealed their fraud from the public and the Debtors' other creditors, the Rigas Family did not conceal it from Defendants. To the contrary, the Rigas Family could not have accomplished this massive fraud on the Debtors and their creditors without Defendants' substantial and knowing assistance.

483. As set forth above, the Rigas Family disclosed to each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders (prior to closing and thereafter) that a substantial portion of the proceeds would be used for purposes benefiting solely the Rigas Family and the RFEs. This disclosure -- along with the structure of the Co-Borrowing Facilities that the Co-Borrowing Lenders had approved -- gave Defendants actual notice of the misconduct by the Rigas Family. As more fully described below, many of the Defendants had a much more substantial relationship with the Debtors and the Rigas Family that provided them with significantly more information about the fraud.

2. Defendants Knew That The Rigas Family Concealed The Debtors' Co-Borrowing Debt.

484. The Co-Borrowing Lenders knew or recklessly disregarded that the Debtors' filings with the SEC consistently concealed the true amount of their co-borrowing liability. Obviously, the Co-Borrowing Lenders knew the amount owing under the Co-Borrowing Facilities in which they participated. In addition, since Wachovia and BMO were Agent Banks or lenders under all of the Co-Borrowing and Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities, these institutions also knew the outstanding balances of all of the Debtors' bank debt (as did other lenders participating in the Co-Borrowing and Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities). All of the Co-Borrowing Lenders regularly received compliance certificates from the Debtors evidencing the true amounts outstanding under the Debtors' credit facilities.

485. Upon information and belief, the Co-Borrowing Lenders performed periodic analyses demonstrating Adelphia's concealment, as caused by the Rigas Family, of billions of dollars under the Co-Borrowing Facilities from the Debtors' balance sheet. For example, on or about March 29, 2001, Defendant Wachovia performed an analysis of Adelphia's total outstanding "bank debt" at the subsidiary level, as of September 30, 2000, under the two Co-Borrowing Facilities then outstanding -- UCA/HHC and CCH -- and under six Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities then outstanding -- Parnassos, Chelsea Communications, Adelphia Cable Partners, Harron Communications, Frontiervision and Century-TCI. Wachovia determined that the Debtors' total "bank debt" as of September 30, 2000 was approximately $5.2 billion.

486. Adelphia's public filings for the same period, however, disclosed that the Debtors' bank debt, as of September 30, 2000, was approximately $3.8 billion. Wachovia did not need any "special" access to the Debtors to obtain this information. To the contrary, all of the Co-Borrowing lenders could have made this calculation based on information readily accessible to them as lenders. Thus, Wachovia's analysis demonstrates that, many, if not all, Defendants knew or recklessly disregarded that Adelphia was understating its total bank debt in 2000 by approximately $1.4 billion and that Adelphia's leverage was not being reduced as represented.

487. Moreover, upon information and belief, in early 2002, each of the Agent Banks performed an analysis of Adelphia's total outstanding bank debt, as of September 30, 2001, under the Co-Borrowing and Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities. Based on the information available to them (and which had been available since 1999), each of the Agent Banks determined that Adelphia's total bank debt was between $6.8 billion and $7.3 billion.

488. Adelphia's public filings for the same period, however, disclosed that Adelphia's bank debt as of September 30, 2001, was approximately $5.4 billion, which included amounts borrowed by an Adelphia subsidiary, Adelphia Business Solutions, Inc. ("ABIZ"), that the Agent Banks did not include in their calculations. Thus, even including the amounts borrowed by ABIZ, Defendants knew or recklessly disregarded that the Debtors understated their total bank debt by at least $1.4 billion. Yet the concealment went much further. Because the SEC filing included significant ABIZ bank debt -- which the Co-Borrowing Agent Banks' analyses excluded -- the Debtors amounts clearly concealed much more than $1.4 billion.

489. In addition to the information the Agent Banks received as lenders, the Agent Banks and the Investment Banks had additional and ample opportunities to learn all material aspects of the Debtors' business and finances. As more fully set forth below, each of the Agent Banks and the Investment Banks, as the Debtors and the Rigas Family's long-time lenders, investment bankers, underwriters, financial analysts, financial advisors and strategic partners, had access to and possession of significant non-public information concerning the financial affairs of the Debtors, the RFEs and the Rigas Family. Moreover, the Investment Banks had a legal obligation to conduct extensive due diligence in connection with the securities offerings they underwrote.

3. Defendants Knew That The Rigas Family Was Using The CMS To Facilitate The Fraud.

490. As discussed above, most of the bank accounts through which the Rigas Family caused Adelphia to fraudulently transfer the co-borrowing funds -- principally the CMS and the Rigas Family's personal accounts -- were maintained at Defendant Wachovia. In many instances, Wachovia would fund, or otherwise be aware of, massive draw downs by an Adelphia subsidiary under the Co-Borrowing Facilities on the same day that the Rigas Family deposited or transferred significant amounts, which, in some instances, matched the amounts drawn down under a Co-Borrowing Facility the very same day. As such, Wachovia knew or recklessly disregarded the Rigas Family's fraudulent conduct. Upon information and belief, other Co-Borrowing Agent Banks knew of the fraudulent use of Co-Borrowing Facilities and the shifting of funds via the CMS.

491. In this regard, records of Adelphia, BofA and Wachovia reflect that, on July 3, 2000, Highland Prestige, an RFE co-borrower, drew $145 million under the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility. The money was transferred directly from BofA, the administrative agent under the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility, to a Highland Prestige bank account at Wachovia. That same day, Highland Prestige transferred approximately $145 million from the same account to the account of another RFE (not a co-borrower), which used the funds to acquire shares of Adelpia Class B Common Stock.

492. Upon information and belief, before each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities closed, all of the Co-Borrowing Lenders obtained summaries, reports and other information relating to the CMS. Thus, Defendants knew of, or recklessly disregarded, the existence of the CMS, the commingling of funds in the CMS, and the fraudulent use by the Rigas Family of funds within the CMS. In particular, Wachovia, by virtue of its oversight of the CMS, Highland Holdings accounts and other Rigas Family accounts that received transfers from the CMS, knew or recklessly disregarded the fraudulent nature of the transfers between the Debtors and the RFEs via the CMS.

493. By contrast, the Debtors, at the direction of the Rigas Family, never informed other creditors, including the holders of public debt securities issued by the Debtors, that the CMS included commingled cash from the Debtors and the RFEs that was being fraudulently diverted from the Debtors for the benefit of the Rigas Family.

4. Defendants Knew That The Proceeds Of The Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities Were Used For Fraudulent Purposes.

494. After May 1999, each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders knew that (i) the Debtors and the RFEs were commingling cash, (ii) the Co-Borrowing Debtors had agreed to be liable for co-borrowing funds drawn by the RFEs, and (iii) the Rigas Family was using the Co-Borrowing

Facilities for personal expenses, including, but not limited to, the purchase of securities issued by Adelphia. The composition of the lenders in the Co-Borrowing Facilities and the Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities substantially overlapped. Once they had indisputable notice of the fraud, the Co-Borrowing Lenders participating in the Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities knew or should have known that the Rigas Family would use the proceeds of the Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities in furtherance of the fraud.

F. Many Defendants Assisted In, Or Recklessly Ignored, The Rigas Family’s Fraud To Garner Enormous Fees.

1. The Unity Of Interest Between Each Agent Bank And Its Affiliated Investment Bank.

495. Substantially all of the Agent Banks had Investment Bank affiliates that rendered significant underwriting, investment banking, and other advisory services to the Debtors. The following is a chart setting forth the applicable Defendant Agent Bank and its Defendant Investment Bank affiliate:

Agent Bank	Investment Bank Affiliate

496. Each Agent Bank shared a unity of interest, conspired, and acted in concert with its affiliated Investment Bank with respect to transactions related to the Debtors and Rigas Family. Each of the Investment Banks, among other things, underwrote numerous Adelpia securities offerings, advised the Rigas Family on structuring various financing transactions for the Debtors and the Rigas Family, and had its purportedly independent analysts issue overly optimistic reports on Adelpia's securities to inflate or maintain the market value of the Rigas Family's stock holdings. While each Agent Bank and its Investment Bank affiliate should have made independent judgments about whether to lend to the Debtors and to underwrite Adelphia securities, no such independent judgments or decisions were made. Instead, each of the Agent Banks and Investment Banks made decisions based solely on the fee income that would be generated.

497. The Investment Banks and affiliated Agent Banks shared all material information about the Debtors' businesses and finances. Indeed, upon information and belief, each of the underwriting agreements between the Investment Banks and the Debtors expressly authorized information-sharing between the Investment Banks and their Agent Bank affiliates. One of these underwriting agreements provided that:

The Investment Banks may . . . share any Offering Document, the Information and any other information or matters relating to Company, any assets to be acquired or the transactions contemplated hereby with Bank of America, N.A. ("BofA") and Citibank, N.A. (together with SSBI, "Citi/SSB") and BofA and Citi/SSB affiliates may likewise share information relating to Company, such assets or such transaction with the Investment Banks.

498. Not only did the Agent Banks and Investment Banks share information, each of the institutions worked as a team to ensure that they extracted maximum fee income from the Debtors. For example, BAS "deal teams" for many Adelphia securities offerings included employees of both BAS and BofA. The December 21, 2000 agreement pursuant to which Adelphia retained BAS to act as, among other things, its investment advisor, states: "For purposes of this engagement letter, 'BAS' shall mean Banc of America Securities LLC and/or any affiliate thereof, including BofA, as BAS shall determine to be appropriate to provide the services contemplated herein[.]" Moreover, BofA ultimately approved the Co-Borrowing Facilities based on the fees received by BAS, and BofA substantially relied upon information provided by BAS in approving each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities.

499. Similarly, in performing the acts described herein, Citibank, Citicorp, SSB, SBHC, and their affiliates (the “Citigroup Defendants”) acted together in pursuit of a common plan, such that each acted on behalf of, and as the agent for, the others. Among other things, the Citigroup Defendants shared information and worked as a “team” to obtain investment bank engagements and to extend credit to Adelpia, including presenting themselves to the Debtors as a single provider of financing and related services and products. As part of this approach, the Citigroup Defendants at times conditioned the extension of credit by one or more of them to Adelpia and the Rigas Family on Adelpia’s engaging another of them to provide investment banking services, and vice versa.

500. BMO and BMO NB, Wachovia and Wachovia Securities and, upon information and belief, the other Agent Banks and their Investment Bank affiliates also ignored any real distinction between lending and investment banking divisions in their dealing with the Debtors and the Rigas Family. Adelpia deal teams for these entities also included employees from both lending and investment banking groups, and each Agent Bank approved participation in the Co-Borrowing Facilities based primarily upon the fees being earned by its affiliated Investment Bank.

2. The Agent Banks And Investment Banks' Close Relationship With The Debtors And The Rigas Family.

501. The Agent Banks and Investment Banks' close relationship with the Debtors and the Rigas Family began long before the Co-Borrowing Facilities. In 1986, Adelphia became a publicly-traded company through an initial public offering ("IPO") of its common stock.

502. Shortly after Adelphia's IPO, Adelphia, through the Rigas Family, began to establish significant relationships with, upon information and belief, each of the Agent Banks and the Investment Banks and, upon information and belief, other lenders. Over the next sixteen years, many of the Agent Banks and their affiliated Investment Banks provided significant debt and equity financing, underwriting, investment banking advice and other financial services to Adelphia, to certain of the RFEs, and directly to members of the Rigas Family. Indeed, the Agent Banks and Investment Banks were intimately involved, on a non-arms length basis, in the Debtors' financial affairs.

503. The following chart sets forth some of the more recent Adelphia and Rigas Family-related transactions in which certain lead Agent Banks and their affiliated Investment Banks participated:

505. Thus, the Agent Banks -- acting in concert with their Investment Bank affiliates -- did much more than just lend money to the Debtors on a purportedly arms-length basis. In addition to offering substantial advice to assist the Debtors and the Rigas Family in accessing the commercial lending and capital markets, certain of the Agent Banks, including BofA, BMO and Citibank, participated in structuring the Co-Borrowing Facilities and other credit facilities for the Debtors in a manner that enabled the RFEs to strip assets from the Debtors.

506. Moreover, in addition to their underwriting services, certain of the Investment Banks rendered substantial financial advisory services to the Debtors and, after reviewing the Debtors' confidential and proprietary information, advised the Debtors on financing acquisitions and their business plans. For example, BAS and SSB acted as mergers and acquisitions advisors to the Debtors for various acquisitions of cable systems around the country. In connection with those services, BAS, SSB and other Investment Banks had their Agent Bank affiliates offer bridge loans to finance the Debtors' acquisitions.

507. By providing their lending, underwriting and financial advisory services as one unit -- without recognizing a distinction between their lending and capital markets groups -- the Agent Banks and their affiliated Investment Banks provided "one-stop shopping" for all the Debtors' financial needs. As a result, the Investment Banks and the Agent Banks, together, became the Debtors' trusted financial advisors and fiduciaries.

508. Moreover, the Agent Banks and the Investment Banks made no meaningful distinction between the Debtors, the Rigas Family, and the RFEs. Indeed, they realized that the key to doing business with Adelphia was to satisfy the personal financial whims of the Rigas Family. Internal documents of each of the Agent Banks and the Investment Banks reflect that their relationship with the Debtors was in reality a relationship with the Rigas Family. For example, BofA and BAS and BMO and BMO NB often referred to their business with the Debtors and the Rigas Family as part of a "Rigas Family" connection, and the Citigroup Defendants often referred to Adelphia and the Rigas Family interchangeably.

509. As a direct result of the Agent Banks' intimate relationship with the Rigas Family and the sweetheart deals they made -- i.e., the provision of loans under the Co-Borrowing Facilities in exchange for exorbitant investment banking fees -- the Co-Borrowing Facilities were not "arms-length" lending transactions. In addition to working jointly with the Rigas Family to create the fraudulent structure of the Co-Borrowing Facilities, the Agent Banks acquiesced to lending terms (duration, interest rates, etc.) that were not the result of arms-length negotiations, but effectively were dictated by the Rigas Family to the Agent Banks.

510. The Agent Banks acceded to these terms because of the promise of lucrative fees to the Investment Banks, which was their primary motivation in their dealings with the Debtors. The "Rigas Family" connection was extremely lucrative for each of the Agent Banks and the Investment Banks. Upon information and belief, the lead Agent Banks and Investment Banks under the Co-Borrowing Facilities -- BofA, BAS, Wachovia, Wachovia Securities, BMO, BMO NB, Citibank and SSB -- earned hundreds of millions of dollars in investment banking and other fees from the Debtors primarily since the first Co-Borrowing Facility closed.

511. This fee income provided the Agent Banks and Investment Banks with a compelling motivation to assist the Rigas Family in their fraudulent activities or to turn a blind eye to them. Each Agent Bank knew that the fees to its affiliated Investment Bank depended upon participation in the Co-Borrowing Facilities: members of the Rigas Family expressly conditioned the granting of investment banking business on participation in the Co-Borrowing Facilities.

512. Thus, many of the Agent Banks approved the Co-Borrowing Facilities even though their total credit exposure to the Debtors and the Rigas Family exceeded lending policy limits. In almost every instance when this occurred, each of the Agent Banks approved a special exception to the exposure limit principally based on the fees to be earned by their affiliated Investment Bank. For example, Defendant BMO approved its participation in the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility despite exceeding its house exposure limit for Adelphia and the Rigas Family by more than $200 million. BMO approved this enormous exposure limit exception based upon, among other things, its frustration at being excluded from a $1.3 billion bridge loan to an Adelphia subsidiary and related securities offerings -- which went to Defendants BofA/BAS, Citibank/SSB and others -- and by its desire to obtain a lead role for BMO NB in underwriting future Adelphia securities offerings.

513. Wachovia and Citibank also authorized exposure exceptions in connection with their approval of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility and justified those exceptions based upon “future capital markets opportunities.” SSB authorized margin loans for the Rigas Family that were outside house limits with a similar motive.

514. The Rigas Family clearly recognized that offering the enticement of investment banking fees would cause the Agent Banks to participate in the Co-Borrowing Facilities. In his February 17, 2000 letter to the Agent Banks regarding the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility, James Brown stated that:

All of the lead managers and co-managers of each of these credit facilities are expected to have an opportunity to play a meaningful role in either the ADLAC or ABIZ public security offerings.

(emphasis added). Thus, by agreeing to participate in the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility, among others, the Agent Banks all but insured that their affiliated Investment Banks would garner substantial fees.

G. Defendants Rewarded The Rigas Family With Extensive Margin Loans.

515. One of the most significant and consistent demands made by the Rigas Family -- and enticements offered by the Agent Banks and Investment Banks to win business -- was the provision of margin loans to finance the Rigas Family's purchase of Adelphia securities. The substantial margin loans provided by Defendants Citigroup, BofA and Deutsche Bank Securities also provided a strong motive for their participation in the Co-Borrowing Facilities: they would always have a second, secured source of repayment if the Rigas Family defaulted on the margin loans.

516. The margin loans -- much like the Rigas Family's use of the Co-Borrowing Facilities -- were pivotal to enable the Rigas Family to retain voting control over Adelphia during a period of rapid growth through acquisitions. As Adelphia issued additional stock in connection with these acquisitions, the Rigas Family needed additional cash to purchase Adelphia stock to avoid dilution of their controlling interest. Citigroup, BofA, Deutsche Bank Securities and other defendants knew that the Rigas Family used the margin loans and the Co-Borrowing Facilities to maintain control over Adelphia.

H. The Investment Banks' Fraudulent Solicitation Of The Debtors' Notes.

517. At all relevant times, each of the Investment Banks had affiliates that were Co-Borrowing and Non-Co-Borrowing Lenders.

518. As underwriters of offerings of debt securities issued to the public by Adelphia and its direct and indirect subsidiaries, the Investment Banks had a legal obligation to ensure that Adelphia and its direct and indirect subsidiaries disclosed all material information about the Debtors' business to prospective purchasers of such debt securities.

519. Since May 1999, when the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility closed, the Investment Banks have underwritten the following public offerings of debt securities:

Debt Security	Issuer	Date	Underwriters
$500 million 9.375% Senior Notes due 11/15/09	Adelphia	11/1999	CSFB Securities, SSB, BNY Capital Markets, Chase Securities, BMO NB, PNC Capital Markets, Scotia Capital, TD Securities
$745 million 10.875% Senior Notes due 10/1/10	Adelphia	9/2000	SSB, BAS, Chase Securities, Morgan Stanley Securities, Scotia Capital, TD Securities, ABN AMRO Securities, Barclays Capital, Credit Lyonnais Securities, Fleet Securities, PNC Capital Markets, SG Cowen, SunTrust Securities
$1.0 billion 6.0% Convertible Subordinated Notes due 2/15/06	Adelphia	1/2001	SSB, BAS
$975 million 3.25% Convertible Subordinated Notes due 5/1/21	Adelphia	4/2001	SSB, BAS, BMO NB, Wachovia Securities, Morgan Stanley Securities, BNY Capital Markets, Credit Lyonnais Securities, Chase Securities, Scotia Capital, SG Cowen
$1.0 billion 10.250% Senior Notes due 6/15/11	Adelphia	6/2001	SSB, BAS, BMO NB, CIBC Securities, CSFB Securities, Deutsche Bank Securities, Chase Securities, TD Securities
$500 million 10.250% Senior Notes due 11/1/06	Adelphia	10/2001	CSFB Securities, BMO NB, BNY Capital Markets, CIBC Securities, Credit Lyonnais Securities, Fleet Securities, Mizuho International plc, Scotia Capital, SG Cowen, TD Securities, Royal Bank of Scotland

520. The amount of Debtors' senior bank debt was a material factor in any investor's decision whether to purchase the debt securities, particularly because such securities would be junior in right of payment to the senior bank debt. All of the purchasers of the debt securities referred to above relied on accurate disclosure of the amount of the Debtors' senior bank debt.

521. None of the prospectuses for the debt securities noted above contained accurate disclosures with respect to the amounts outstanding under the Co-Borrowing Facilities. Indeed, the standard practice in these offerings was simply to incorporate by reference the Debtors' most recent SEC filings. Nonetheless, the Investment Banks knew or recklessly disregarded the gross understatement of the amount outstanding under the Co-Borrowing Facilities in these filings.

522. The Investment Banks focused significantly more effort on generating fee income than ensuring appropriate disclosure of the Co-Borrowing Facilities. At all relevant times, the Investment Banks and their Agent Bank affiliates shared all material information and due diligence regarding the Debtors, the RFEs and the Rigas Family. The Investment Banks and Agent Banks did not properly maintain the "information walls" that would prohibit the sharing of such information. To the contrary, the Investment Banks and Agent Banks needed to and, in fact, did share information to maximize their ability to garner additional fees. Thus, uncovering the fraud would have been as simple as requesting from the Debtors -- or their Agent Bank affiliates -- the amounts outstanding under the Debtors' credit facilities and comparing those amounts with the Debtors' SEC filings. The Investment Banks either obtained this information from their affiliated lenders (which would have provided actual notice of the fraud) or the Investment Banks recklessly failed to do so.

523. The debt securities solicited by the Investment Banks were issued on a structurally subordinated basis to the Co-Borrowing Facilities. Thus, the purchasers of the debt securities -- the parties to whom the Investment Banks provided, or recklessly permitted the Debtors to provide, misleading and false information -- would suffer the first losses if the Debtors' businesses collapsed under the weight of the undisclosed debt burden and massive fraud. The structurally subordinated debt securities also ensured that the Co-Borrowing Lenders would have more credit support to ensure repayment of their loans.

I. The Fraud Is Disclosed.

524. On or about March 27, 2002, members of the Rigas Family announced that they had concealed from the public approximately $2.3 billion of the co-borrowing Debtors' liability. Later, that amount was increased to approximately $3.4 billion. On or about April 1, 2002, Adelphia failed to file its Annual Reports on Form 10-K with the SEC as required by applicable regulations. The failure timely to file the 10-K triggered an Event of Default under the Co-Borrowing Facilities.

525. Notwithstanding the Rigas Family's concealment of $3.4 billion of debt and the default under the Co-Borrowing Facilities, the Co-Borrowing Lenders, and in particular BofA, Citibank and/or Citicorp and Deutsche Bank -- each being, upon information and belief, acutely aware of the Rigas Family's significant liabilities with respect to their margin accounts at BofA, SSB and Deutsche Bank Securities -- continued to approve borrowing requests under the Co-Borrowing Facilities. Worse still, the Co-Borrowing and NCB Lenders knew that the Debtors would use most, if not all, of the post-disclosure, post-default borrowings to fund margin payments owed by the Rigas Family and the RFEs to the Margin Lenders. Thus, the Co-Borrowing Lenders allowed the Rigas Family to borrow funds under the senior Co-Borrowing Facilities -- on which Adelpia was obligated -- to pay off the junior margin loans -- on which only the Rigas Family was obligated.

526. Faced with the harshly critical public reaction to the disclosure of the fraud at the Debtors, BofA, BMO, Wachovia, the Citigroup Defendants and their respective affiliates issued internal status reports. None of the status reports expressed any shock -- let alone surprise -- about the situation at the Debtors. To the contrary, each of these institutions acknowledged that they had always known all the material (and previously undisclosed) facts about the Co-Borrowing Facilities.

J. The Inevitable Result Of The Fraud: The Debtors File Chapter 11.

527. Saddled with the massive debt burden of loans that were intended to benefit only the Rigas Family (and which, in fact, did only benefit the Rigas Family), on June 25, 2002 the Debtors filed petitions pursuant to Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in this Court.

K. Indictment Of The Rigas Family.

528. On July 24, 2002, John Rigas, Timothy Rigas, and Michael Rigas, along with Brown and Mulcahey, were arrested in connection with a criminal complaint filed by the United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York and were charged with nine counts of bank, securities and wire fraud. On September 23, 2002, each of them was indicted.

529. The criminal complaint against these members of the Rigas Family alleges, among other things, that they “looted Adelpia on a massive scale, using the company as the Rigas Family’s personal piggy bank, at the expense of public investors and creditors,” and that the Rigas Family “fraudulently concealed [their] self-dealing from the public.” The criminal complaint also alleges that the Rigas Family concealed their self-dealing by, among other things, failing to accurately disclose Adelphia's liabilities under the Co-Borrowing Facilities and using co-borrowing funds -- for which the Co-Borrowing Debtors remained liable -- to acquire Adelphia securities to mislead the public into believing that Adelphia was reducing its consolidated leverage.

530. Recently, Brown and another former Adelphia executive, Timothy Werth, pleaded guilty to charges resulting from their participation in the Rigas Family's fraud.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Intentionally Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 548, 550 and 551 Against the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders)

531. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

532. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors borrowed from, and incurred the obligation to pay indebtedness to, the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders in the approximate amount of $831 million pursuant to the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility (the "UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations").

533. To secure the repayment of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations, the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors conveyed liens, security interests, mortgages, and pledges of their respective property to the UCA/HHC Lenders (the "UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests").

534. With each of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lender's knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent, at least $642 million of the proceeds of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility were used by the Debtors and the Rigas Family for purposes benefiting solely the Rigas Family. A substantial portion of this amount was incurred and paid in the year preceding the Petition Date.

535. The incurrence of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and the grant of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests were transfers of interests in property of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors.

536. In incurring the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and granting the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests, the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors intended to delay, hinder and defraud any entity to which the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors were or became indebted on or after the date that such obligations were incurred or such security interests were granted.

537. At the time the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations were incurred and the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests were granted, the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors would receive no benefit from the amounts borrowed by the RFEs and that the RFEs would be unable to repay amounts borrowed under the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility. The RFEs contributed a disproportionately small amount of assets to the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility, and such assets were not sufficient to secure repayment of the amounts borrowed by the RFEs.

538. In furtherance of this fraud, the Rigas Family caused the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors to conceal at least $642 million of the borrowings under the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility and, as alleged supra, deceived creditors into believing that the UCA/HHC

Debtors' leverage was being reduced when, in fact, the UCA/HHC Debtors' debts under the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility were increasing.

539. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders' conduct in participating in the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. The uses of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility by the Rigas Family occurred with the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders' knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent.

540. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders were initial and/or immediate or mediate transferees of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests. All of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders received their interest in the Co-Borrowing Obligations and the Co-Borrowing Security Interests with full knowledge of all facts relevant to the voidability of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility.

541. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 548, 550, and 551 of the Bankruptcy Code, (i) all UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred pursuant to the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility on or within one year preceding the Petition Date, which Plaintiffs believe is not less than $400 million, should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates; and (ii) all UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred on or within one year preceding the Petition Date should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, together with all interest paid in respect of the obligations avoided hereunder.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Constructively Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 548, 550 and 551 Against the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders)

542. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 and 532 through 533 as if fully set forth herein.

543. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations in the approximate amount of $831 million pursuant to the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility.

544. To secure the repayment of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations, the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors granted the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests to the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders.

545. With each of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lender's knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent, at least $642 million of the proceeds of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility were used by the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors and the Rigas Family for purposes benefiting solely the Rigas Family and the RFEs. A substantial portion of this amount was incurred and paid in the year preceding the Petition Date.

546. The incurrence of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and the grant of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests were transfers of interests in property of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors.

547. When the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and granted the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests, the

UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors: (i) were insolvent or were rendered insolvent, (ii) were engaged or were about to engage in business or a transaction for which any property remaining with the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors was an unreasonably small capital, and/or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that they would incur, debts that would be beyond their ability to pay as such debts matured.

548. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors did not receive any value, let alone reasonably equivalent value, from the borrowings by the RFEs. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Credit Agreements specifically contemplated that borrowings thereunder could be used by the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors or the RFEs. Each of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors and the RFEs could borrow amounts at will under the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility, with all borrowers being jointly and severally liable for all borrowings thereunder. The RFEs contributed a disproportionately small amount of assets to the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility, and such assets were not sufficient to secure repayment of the amounts borrowed by the RFEs. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors did not receive fair value or reasonably equivalent value from the borrowings by the Rigas Family or the RFEs.

549. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders' conduct in participating in the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. The uses of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility by the Rigas Family occurred with the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders' knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent.

550. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders were initial and/or immediate or mediate transferees of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests. All of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders received their interest in the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests with full knowledge of all relevant facts relating to the voidability of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility.

551. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 548, 550, and 551 of the Bankruptcy Code, (i) all UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred pursuant to the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility on or within one year preceding the Petition Date, which Plaintiffs believe is not less than $400 million, should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates; and (ii) all UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred on or within one year preceding the Petition Date should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Intentionally Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 544(b), 550 and 551 Against the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders)

552. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 and 532 through 533 as if fully set forth herein.

553. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations in the approximate amount of $831 million pursuant to the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility.

554. To secure the repayment of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations, the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors conveyed the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests to the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders.

555. At least $642 million of the proceeds of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility were used by the Debtors and the Rigas Family for purposes benefiting solely the Rigas Family and the RFEs.

556. The incurrence of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and the grant of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests were transfers of interests of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors in property.

557. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and granted the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests with the actual intent to delay, hinder and defraud any entity to which the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors were or became indebted, on or after the date that such obligations were incurred or such security interests were granted.

558. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Credit Agreements specifically contemplated that borrowings thereunder could be used by the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors or the RFEs. Each of The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors and the RFEs could borrow amounts at will under the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility, and both would be jointly and severally liable for all borrowings thereunder. At the time the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations were incurred and the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests were granted, the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors would receive no benefit from the amounts borrowed by the RFEs and that the RFEs would be unable to repay amounts borrowed under the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility.

559. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors knew that the RFEs contributed a disproportionately small amount of assets to the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility, and such assets were not sufficient to secure repayment of the amounts borrowed by the RFEs.

560. In furtherance of this fraud, the Rigas Family caused the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors to conceal at least $642 million of the borrowings under the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility from the public and creditors other than the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders. Thus, the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors knew that the incurrence of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility and the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests would severely inhibit the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors' ability to repay other creditors.

561. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders' conduct in participating in the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. The uses of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility by the Rigas Family occurred with the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders' knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent.

562. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders were initial and/or immediate or mediate transferees of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests. All of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders received their interest in the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests with full knowledge of all relevant facts relating to the voidability of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility.

563. At all times relevant hereto, there were actual creditors of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors holding unsecured claims allowable against the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors' estates within the meaning of Sections 502(d) and 544(b) of the Bankruptcy Code.

These creditors, among others, have the right to void the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests under applicable law, including, but not limited to, the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the States of New York, Texas, North Carolina and Illinois.

564. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 544(b), 550, and 551 of the Bankruptcy Code, (A) (i) all UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, and (ii) all UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates; or, alternatively, (B) (i) all UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred for the benefit of the Rigas Family should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, and (ii) all UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred for the benefit of the Rigas Family should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, together with all interest paid in respect of the obligations avoided hereunder.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Constructively Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 544(b), 550 and 551 Against the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders)

565. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 and 532 through 533 as if fully set forth herein.

566. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations in the approximate amount of $831 million pursuant to the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility.

567. To secure the repayment of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility, the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors conveyed the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests.

568. The incurrence of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and the grant of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests were transfers of interests of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors in property.

569. When the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and granted the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests, the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors: (i) were insolvent or were rendered insolvent, (ii) were engaged or were about to engage in business or a transaction for which any property remaining with the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors was an unreasonably small capital, and/or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that they would incur, debts that would be beyond their ability to pay as such debts matured.

570. With each of the UCA/HHC Lender's knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent, at least $642 million of the proceeds of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility were used by the Debtors and the Rigas Family for purposes benefiting solely the Rigas Family and the RFEs. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Credit Agreements specifically contemplated that borrowings thereunder could be used by the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors or the RFEs. Each of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors and the RFEs could borrow amounts at will under the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility, with all borrowers being jointly and severally liable for all borrowings thereunder.

571. The RFEs contributed a disproportionately small amount of assets to the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility, and such assets were not sufficient to secure repayment of the amounts borrowed by the RFEs.

572. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders' conduct in participating in the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. The uses of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility by the Rigas Family occurred with the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders' knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent.

573. The UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders were initial and/or immediate or mediate transferees of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests. All of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Lenders received their interest in the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests with full knowledge of all facts relevant to the voidability of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility.

574. At all times relevant hereto, there were actual creditors of the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors holding unsecured claims allowable against the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Debtors' estates within the meaning of Sections 502(d) and 544(b) of the Bankruptcy Code. These creditors, among others, have the right to void the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations and the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests under applicable law, including, but not limited to, the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the States of New York, Texas, North Carolina and Illinois.

575. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 544(b), 550, and 551 of the Bankruptcy Code, (A) (i) all UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, and (ii) all UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates; or, alternatively, (B) (i) all UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred for the benefit of the Rigas Family should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, and (ii) all UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred for the benefit of the Rigas Family should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, together with all interest paid in respect of the obligations avoided hereunder.

FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Intentionally Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 548, 550 and 551 Against the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders)

576. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

577. The CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors borrowed from, and incurred the obligation to pay indebtedness to, the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders in the approximate amount of $2.5 billion pursuant to the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility (the "CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations").

578. To secure the repayment of the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations, the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors conveyed liens, security interests, mortgages and pledges of their respective property to the CCH Lenders (the "CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests").

579. With the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders' knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent, at least $1.66 billion of the proceeds of the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility were used by the Debtors and the Rigas Family for purposes benefiting solely the Rigas Family and the RFEs.

A substantial portion of this amount was incurred and paid in the year preceding the Petition Date.

580. The incurrence of the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations and the grant of the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests were transfers of interests in property of the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors.

581. In incurring the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations and granting the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests, the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors intended to delay, hinder and defraud any entity to which the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors were or became indebted, on or after the date that such obligations were incurred or such security interests were granted.

582. At the time the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations were incurred and the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests were granted, the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors would receive no benefit from the amounts borrowed by the RFEs and that the RFEs would be unable to repay amounts borrowed under the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility. The RFEs contributed a disproportionately small amount of assets to the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility, and such assets were not sufficient to secure repayment of the amounts borrowed by the RFEs.

583. In furtherance of this fraud, the Rigas Family caused the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors to conceal at least $1.66 billion of the borrowings under the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility and, as alleged supra, deceived creditors into believing that the CCH Debtors' leverage was being reduced when, in fact, the CCH Debtors' debts under the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility were increasing.

584. The CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders' conduct in participating in the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. The uses of the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility by the Rigas Family occurred with the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders' knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent.

585. The CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders were initial and/or immediate or mediate transferees of the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations and the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests. All of the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders received their interest in the Co-Borrowing Obligations and the Co-Borrowing Security Interests with full knowledge of all facts relevant to the voidability of the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility.

SIXTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Constructively Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 548, 550 and 551 Against the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders)

587. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 and 557 through 558 as if fully set forth herein.

588. The CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations in the approximate amount of $2.5 billion pursuant to the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility.

589. To secure the repayment of the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations, the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors granted the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests to the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders.

590. With each of the CCH Co-Borrowing Lender's knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent, at least $1.66 billion of the proceeds of the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility were used by the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors and the Rigas Family for purposes benefiting solely the Rigas Family and the RFEs. 591. The incurrence of the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations and the grant of the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests were transfers of interests of the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors in property.

592. When the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations and granted the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests, the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors: (i) were insolvent or were rendered insolvent, (ii) were engaged or were about to engage in business or a transaction for which any property remaining with the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors was an unreasonably small capital, and/or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that they would incur, debts that would be beyond their ability to pay as such debts matured.

593. The CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors did not receive any value, let alone reasonably equivalent value, from the borrowings by the RFEs. The CCH Co-Borrowing Credit Agreements specifically contemplated that borrowings thereunder could be used by the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors or the RFEs. The RFEs contributed a disproportionately small amount of assets to the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility, and such assets were not sufficient to secure repayment of the amounts borrowed by the RFEs. 594. The CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders' conduct in participating in the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. The uses of the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility by the Rigas Family occurred with the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders' knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent.

SEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Intentionally Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 544(b), 550 and 551 Against the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders)

597. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 and 557 through 558 as if fully set forth herein.

598. The CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations in the approximate amount of $2.5 billion pursuant to the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility.

599. To secure the repayment of the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations, the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors conveyed the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests to the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders.

600. At least $1.66 billion of the proceeds of the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility were used by the Debtors and the Rigas Family for purposes benefiting solely the Rigas Family and the RFEs.

601. The incurrence of the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations and the grant of the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests were transfers of interests in property of the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors.

602. The CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations and granted the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests with the actual intent to delay, hinder and defraud any entity to which the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors were or became indebted on or after the date that such obligations were incurred or such security interests were granted.

603. The CCH Co-Borrowing Credit Agreements specifically contemplated that borrowings thereunder could be used by the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors or the RFEs. Each of the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors and the RFEs could borrow amounts at will under the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility and both would be jointly and severally liable for all borrowings thereunder. At the time the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations were incurred and the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests were granted, the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors would receive no benefit from the amounts borrowed by the RFEs and that the RFEs would be unable to repay amounts borrowed under the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility.

604. The CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors knew that the RFEs contributed a disproportionately small amount of assets to the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility, and such assets were not sufficient to secure repayment of the amounts borrowed by the RFEs.

605. In furtherance of this fraud, the Rigas Family caused the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors to conceal at least $1.66 billion of the borrowings under the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility from the public and creditors other than the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders. Thus, the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors knew that the incurrence of the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility and the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests would severely inhibit the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors' ability to repay other creditors.

606. The CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders' conduct in participating in the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. The uses of the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility by the Rigas Family occurred with the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders' knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent.

607. The CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders were initial and/or immediate or mediate transferees of the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations and the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests. All of the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders received their interest in the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations and the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests with full knowledge of all relevant facts relating to the voidability of the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility.

609. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 544(b), 550, and 551 of the Bankruptcy Code, (A) (i) all CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, and (ii) all CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates; or, alternatively, (B) (i) all CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred for the benefit of the Rigas Family should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, and (ii) all CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred for the benefit of the Rigas Family should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, together with all interest paid in respect of the obligations avoided hereunder.

EIGHTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Constructively Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 544(b), 550 and 551 Against the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders)

610. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 and 557 through 558 as if fully set forth herein.

611. The CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations in the approximate amount of $2.5 billion pursuant to the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility.

612. To secure the repayment of the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility, the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors conveyed the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests.

613. The incurrence of the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations and the grant of the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests were transfers of interests in property of the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors.

614. When the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations and granted the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests, the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors: (i) were insolvent or were rendered insolvent, (ii) were engaged or were about to engage in business or a transaction for which any property remaining with the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors was an unreasonably small capital, and/or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that they would incur, debts that would be beyond their ability to pay as such debts matured.

615. With each of the CCH Lender's knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent, at least $1.66 billion of the proceeds of the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility were used by the Debtors and the Rigas Family for purposes benefiting solely the Rigas Family and the RFEs. The CCH Co-Borrowing Credit Agreements specifically contemplated that borrowings thereunder could be used by the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors or the RFEs. Each of the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors and the RFEs could borrow amounts at will under the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility, with all borrowers being jointly and severally liable for all borrowings thereunder.

616. The RFEs contributed a disproportionately small amount of assets to the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility, and such assets were not sufficient to secure repayment of the amounts borrowed by the RFEs.

617. The CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders' conduct in participating in the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. The uses of the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility by the Rigas Family occurred with the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders' knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent.

618. The CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders were initial and/or immediate or mediate transferees of the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations and the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests. All of the CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders received their interest in the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations and the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests with full knowledge of all facts relevant to the voidability of the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility.

619. At all times relevant hereto, there were actual creditors of the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors holding unsecured claims allowable against the CCH Co-Borrowing Debtors' estates within the meaning of Sections 502(d) and 544(b) of the Bankruptcy Code. These creditors, among others, have the right to void the CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations and the CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests under applicable law, including, but not limited to, the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the States of New York, Texas, North Carolina and Illinois.

620. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 544(b), 550, and 551 of the Bankruptcy Code, (A) (i) all CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, and (ii) all CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates; or, alternatively, (B) (i) all CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred for the benefit of the Rigas Family should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, and (ii) all CCH Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing CCH Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred for the benefit of the Rigas Family should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, together with all interest paid in respect of the obligations avoided hereunder.

NINTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Intentionally Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 548, 550 and 551 Against the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders)

621. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

622. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors borrowed from, and incurred the obligation to pay indebtedness to, the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders in the approximate amount of $831 million pursuant to the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility (the “Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations”).

623. To secure the repayment of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations, the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors conveyed liens, security interests, mortgages and pledges of their respective property to the Olympus Lenders (the “Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests”).

624. With the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders’ knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent, at least $751.5 million of the proceeds of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility were used by the Debtors and the Rigas Family for purposes benefiting solely the Rigas Family. A substantial portion of this amount was incurred and paid in the year preceding the Petition Date.

625. The incurrence of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and the grant of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests were transfers of interests in property of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors.

626. In incurring the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and granting the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests, the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors intended to delay, hinder and defraud any entity to which the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors were or became indebted, on or after the date that such obligations were incurred or such security interests were granted.

627. At the time the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations were incurred and the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests were granted, the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors would receive no benefit from the amounts borrowed by the RFEs and that the RFEs would be unable to repay amounts borrowed under the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility. The RFEs contributed a disproportionately small amount of assets to the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility, and such assets were not sufficient to secure repayment of the amounts borrowed by the RFEs.

628. In furtherance of this fraud, the Rigas Family caused the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors to conceal at least $751.5 million of the borrowings under the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility and, as alleged supra, deceived creditors into believing that the Olympus Debtors' leverage was being reduced when, in fact, the Olympus Debtors' debts under the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility were increasing.

629. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders' conduct in participating in the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. The uses of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility by the Rigas Family occurred with the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders' knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent.

630. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders were initial and/or immediate or mediate transferees of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests. All of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders received their interest in the Co-Borrowing Obligations and the Co-Borrowing Security Interests with full knowledge of all facts relevant to the voidability of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility.

631. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 548, 550, and 551 of the Bankruptcy Code, (i) all Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred pursuant to the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility on or within one year preceding the Petition Date, which Plaintiffs believe is not less than $500 million, should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates; and (ii) all Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred on or within one year preceding the Petition Date should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, together with all interest paid in respect of the obligations avoided hereunder.

TENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Constructively Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 548, 550 and 551 Against the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders)

632. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 and 622 through 623 as if fully set forth herein.

633. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations in the approximate amount of $1.3 billion pursuant to the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility.

634. To secure the repayment of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations, the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors granted the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests to the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders.

635. With each of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lender's knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent, at least $751.5 million of the proceeds of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility were used by the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors and the Rigas Family for purposes benefiting solely the Rigas Family and the RFEs. A substantial portion of this amount was incurred and paid in the year preceding the Petition Date.

636. The incurrence of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and the grant of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests were transfers of interests in property of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors.

637. When the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and granted the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests, the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors: (i) were insolvent or were rendered insolvent, (ii) were engaged, or were about to engage in business or a transaction for which any property remaining with the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors was an unreasonably small capital, and/or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that they would incur, debts that would be beyond their ability to pay as such debts matured.

638. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors did not receive any value, let alone reasonably equivalent value, from the borrowings by the RFEs. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Credit Agreement specifically contemplated that borrowings thereunder could be used by the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors or the RFEs. Each of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors and the RFEs could borrow amounts at will under the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility, with all borrowers being jointly and severally liable for all borrowings thereunder. The RFEs contributed a disproportionately small amount of assets to the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility, and such assets were not sufficient to secure repayment of the amounts borrowed by the RFEs. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors did not receive fair value or reasonably equivalent value from the borrowings by the Rigas Family or the RFEs.

639. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders' conduct in participating in the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. The uses of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility by the Rigas Family occurred with the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders' knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent.

640. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders were initial and/or immediate or mediate transferees of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests. All of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders received their interest in the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests with full knowledge of all relevant facts relating to the voidability of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility.

641. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 548, 550, and 551 of the Bankruptcy Code, (i) all Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred pursuant to the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility on or within one year preceding the Petition Date, which Plaintiffs believe is not less than $500 million, should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates; and (ii) all Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred on or within one year preceding the Petition Date should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, together with all interest paid in respect of the obligations avoided hereunder.

ELEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Intentionally Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 544(b), 550 and 551 Against the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders)

642. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 and 622 through 623 as if fully set forth herein.

643. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations in the approximate amount of $1.3 billion pursuant to the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility.

644. To secure the repayment of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations, the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors conveyed the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests to the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders.

645. At least $751.5 million of the proceeds of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility were used by the Debtors and the Rigas Family for purposes benefiting solely the Rigas Family and the RFEs.

646. The incurrence of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and the grant of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests were transfers of interests of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors in property.

647. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and granted the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests with the actual intent to delay, hinder and defraud any entity to which the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors were or became indebted, on or after the date that such obligations were incurred or such security interests were granted.

648. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Credit Agreements specifically contemplated that borrowings thereunder could be used by the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors or the RFEs. Each of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors and the RFEs could borrow amounts at will under the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility, and both would be jointly and severally liable for all borrowings thereunder. At the time the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations were incurred and the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests were granted, the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors would receive no benefit from the amounts borrowed by the RFEs and that the RFEs would be unable to repay amounts borrowed under the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility.

649. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors knew that the RFEs contributed a disproportionately small amount of assets to the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility, and such assets were not sufficient to secure repayment of the amounts borrowed by the RFEs.

650. In furtherance of this fraud, the Rigas Family caused the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors to conceal at least $751.5 million of the borrowings under the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility from the public and creditors other than the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders. Thus, the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors knew that the incurrence of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility and the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests would severely inhibit the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors' ability to repay other creditors.

651. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders' conduct in participating in the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. The uses of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility by the Rigas Family occurred with the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders' knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent.

652. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders were initial and/or immediate or mediate transferees of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests. All of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders received their interest in the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests with full knowledge of all relevant facts relating to the voidability of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility.

653. At all times relevant hereto, there were actual creditors of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors holding unsecured claims allowable against the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors' estates within the meaning of Sections 502(d) and 544(b) of the Bankruptcy Code. These creditors, among others, have the right to void the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests under applicable law, including, but not limited to, the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the States of New York, Texas, North Carolina and Illinois.

654. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 544(b), 550, and 551 of the Bankruptcy Code, (A) (i) all Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, and (ii) all Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates; or, alternatively, (B) (i) all Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred for the benefit of the Rigas Family should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, and (ii) all Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred for the benefit of the Rigas Family should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, together with all interest paid in respect of the obligations avoided hereunder.

TWELFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Constructively Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 544(b), 550 and 551 Against the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders)

655. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 and 622 through 623 as if fully set forth herein.

656. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations in the approximate amount of $1.3 billion pursuant to the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility.

657. To secure the repayment of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility, the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors conveyed the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests.

658. The incurrence of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and the grant of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests were transfers of interests of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors in property.

659. When the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors incurred the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and granted the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests, the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors: (i) were insolvent or were rendered insolvent, (ii) were engaged or were about to engage in business or a transaction for which any property remaining with the Olympus

Co-Borrowing Debtors was an unreasonably small capital, and/or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that they would incur, debts that would be beyond their ability to pay as such debts matured.

660. With each of the Olympus Lender's knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent, at least $751.5 million of the proceeds of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility were used by the Debtors and the Rigas Family for purposes benefiting solely the Rigas Family and the RFEs. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Credit Agreements specifically contemplated that borrowings thereunder could be used by the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors or the RFEs. Each of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors and the RFEs could borrow amounts at will under the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility, with all borrowers being jointly and severally liable for all borrowings thereunder.

661. The RFEs contributed a disproportionately small amount of assets to the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility, and such assets were not sufficient to secure repayment of the amounts borrowed by the RFEs.

662. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders' conduct in participating in the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. The uses of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility by the Rigas Family occurred with the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders' knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent.

663. The Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders were initial and/or immediate or mediate transferees of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests. All of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Lenders received their interest in the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests with full knowledge of all facts relevant to the voidability of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Facility.

664. At all times relevant hereto, there were actual creditors of the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors holding unsecured claims allowable against the Olympus Co-Borrowing Debtors' estates within the meaning of Sections 502(d) and 544(b) of the Bankruptcy Code. These creditors, among others, have the right to void the Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations and the Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests under applicable law, including, but not limited to, the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the States of New York, Texas, North Carolina and Illinois.

665. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 544(b), 550, and 551 of the Bankruptcy Code, (A) (i) all Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, and (ii) all Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates; or, alternatively, (B) (i) all Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred for the benefit of the Rigas Family should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, and (ii) all Olympus Co-Borrowing Security Interests securing Olympus Co-Borrowing Obligations incurred for the benefit of the Rigas Family should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, together with all interest paid in respect of the obligations avoided hereunder.

THIRTEENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Intentionally Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 548, 550 and 551 Against Century-TCI Lenders)

666. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

667. The Century-TCI Debtors borrowed from, and incurred the obligation to pay indebtedness to, the Century-TCI Lenders in the approximate amount of $1 billion pursuant to the Century-TCI Facility (the “Century-TCI Obligations”).

668. To secure the repayment of the Century-TCI Obligations, the Century-TCI Debtors conveyed security interests and pledges in their respective property to the Century-TCI Lenders (the “Century-TCI Security Interests”).

669. With each of the Century-TCI Lender’s knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent, at least $408 million from the Century-TCI Credit Facility was used by the Rigas Family to purchase common stock and convertible notes (the “Century-TCI Transfer”) in the year preceding the Petition Date.

670. In consummating the Century-TCI Transfer, the Debtors intended to delay, hinder and defraud any entity to which the Century-TCI Debtors were or became indebted, on or after the date that the Century-TCI Transfer was incurred or the Century-TCI Security Interests for the Century-TCI Transfer were granted. The Debtors knew that the Century-TCI Transfer would benefit solely the Rigas Family.

671. The Century-TCI Obligations Lenders’ conduct was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. By virtue of their substantial participation in the Co-Borrowing Facilities, the Century-TCI Lenders knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Debtors' business was suffused with fraud; that the Debtors used proceeds of the Co-Borrowing Facilities for purposes that benefited solely the Rigas Family; that the Debtors were concealing billions of dollars of their borrowings under the Co-Borrowing Facilities from other creditors; and that the Debtors were commingling the Debtors' and the Rigas Family's cash. The Century-TCI Lenders had no reasonable basis to believe that the Century-TCI Facility would not be used in furtherance of the fraud.

672. The incurrence of the Century-TCI Obligations and the Century-TCI Security Interests were transfers of interests of the Debtors in property.

673. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 548, 550, and 551 of the Bankruptcy Code, (i) the Century-TCI Transfer should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates; and (ii) all Century-TCI Security Interests securing the Century-TCI Transfer should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, together with all interest paid in respect of the obligations avoided hereunder.

FOURTEENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Constructively Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 548, 550 and 551 Against Century-TCI Lenders)

675. The Century-TCI Debtors incurred the Century-TCI Obligations in the amount of $1 billion.

676. To secure the repayment of the Century-TCI Obligations, the Century-TCI Debtors granted the Century-TCI Security Interests.

677. With each of the Century-TCI Lender's knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent, at least $490 million from the Century-TCI Credit Facility was used to consummate the Century-TCI Transfer in the year preceding the Petition Date.

678. The Century-TCI Lenders' conduct was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. By virtue of their substantial participation in the Co-Borrowing Facilities, the Century-TCI Lenders knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Debtors' business was suffused with fraud; that the Debtors used proceeds of the Co-Borrowing Facilities for purposes that benefited solely the Rigas Family; that the Debtors were concealing billions of dollars of their borrowings under the Co-Borrowing Facilities from other creditors; and that the Debtors were commingling the Debtors' and the Rigas Family's cash. The Century-TCI Lenders had no reasonable basis to believe that the Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities would not be used in furtherance of the fraud.

679. The incurrence of the Century-TCI Obligations and the Century-TCI Security Interests were transfers of interests of the Debtors in property.

680. When the Century-TCI Transfer occurred, the Century-TCI Debtors: (i) were insolvent or were rendered insolvent, (ii) were engaged or were about to engage in business or a transaction for which any property remaining with the Century-TCI Debtors was an unreasonably small capital, and/or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that they would incur, debts that would be beyond their ability to pay as such debts matured.

681. The Century-TCI Lenders were initial and/or immediate or mediate transferees of the Century-TCI Transfer and the Century-TCI Security Interests securing the Century-TCI Transfers. All of the Century-TCI Lenders received their interest in the Century-TCI Transfer with full knowledge of the facts relating to such transfers.

682. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 548, 550, and 551 of the Bankruptcy Code, (i) the Century-TCI Transfer should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates; and (ii) all Century-TCI Security Interests securing the Century-TCI Transfer should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates, together with all interest paid in respect of the obligations avoided hereunder.

FIFTEENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Intentionally Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 544(b), 550 and 551 Against Century-TCI Lenders)

687. In consummating the Century-TCI Transfer, the Century-TCI Debtors intended to delay, hinder and defraud any entity to which the Century-TCI Debtors were or became indebted, on or after the date that such obligations were incurred or such security interests were granted. The Century-TCI Debtors knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Century-TCI Transfer would benefit solely the Rigas Family.

688. The Century-TCI Lenders' conduct was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. By virtue of their substantial participation in the Co-Borrowing Facilities, the Century-TCI Lenders knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Debtors' business was suffused with fraud; that the Debtors used proceeds of the Co-Borrowing Facilities for purposes that benefited solely the Rigas Family; that the Debtors were concealing billions of dollars of their borrowings under the Co-Borrowing Facilities from other creditors; and that the Debtors were commingling the Debtors' and the Rigas Family's cash. The Century-TCI Lenders had no reasonable basis to believe that the Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities would not be used in furtherance of the fraud.

689. The incurrence of the Century-TCI Obligations and the Century-TCI Security Interests were transfers of interests of the Debtors in property.

690. The Century-TCI Lenders were initial and/or immediate or mediate transferees of the Century-TCI Transfer and the Century-TCI Security Interests securing the Century-TCI Transfer. All of the Century-TCI Lenders received their interest in the Century-TCI Transfer with full knowledge of the facts relating to such transfer.

691. At all times relevant hereto, there were actual creditors of the Century-TCI Debtors holding unsecured claims allowable against the Debtors' estates within the meaning of Sections 502(d) and 544(b) of the Bankruptcy Code. These creditors, among others, have the

693. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 and 667 through 669 as if fully set forth herein.

694. The Century-TCI Debtors incurred the Century-TCI Obligations in the amount of $1 billion.

695. To secure the repayment of the Century-TCI Obligations, the Century-TCI Debtors conveyed the Century-TCI Security Interests.

696. With each of the Century-TCI Lender's knowledge, reckless disregard and/or consent, at least $408 million of the Century-TCI Obligations were incurred for purposes that benefited solely the Rigas Family.

697. When the Century-TCI Transfer occurred, the Century-TCI Debtors: (i) were insolvent or were rendered insolvent, (ii) were engaged or were about to engage in business or a transaction for which any property remaining with the Century-TCI Debtors was an unreasonably small capital, and/or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that they would incur, debts that would be beyond their ability to pay as such debts matured.

698. The Century-TCI Lenders' conduct was recklessly indifferent and in bad faith. By virtue of their substantial participation in the Co-Borrowing Facilities, the Century-TCI Lenders knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Debtors' business was suffused with fraud; that the Debtors used proceeds of the Co-Borrowing Facilities for purposes that benefited solely the Rigas Family; that the Debtors were concealing billions of dollars of their borrowings under the Co-Borrowing Facilities from other creditors; and that the Debtors were commingling the Debtors' and the Rigas Family's cash. The Century-TCI Lenders had no reasonable basis to believe that the Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities would not be used in furtherance of the fraud.

783. One or more of the Debtors made the BNS Payments. At least $10,446,935.69 of the BNS Payments were made on or within the year preceding the Petition Date. The BNS Payments were earmarked by the Debtors to pay BNS in respect of such debt.

784. The BNS Payments were transfers of an interest of one or more of the Debtors in property.

785. The Debtors made the BNS Payments when they: (i) were insolvent or were rendered insolvent, (ii) were engaged or were about to engage in business or a transaction for which any property remaining was an unreasonably small capital, and/or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that they would incur, debts that would be beyond their ability to pay as such debts matured.

786. BNS was the initial and/or immediate or mediate transferee of the BNS Payments.

787. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 544(b) and 550 of the Bankruptcy Code, at least $10,446,935.69 the BNS Payments should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates.

Total	$688,978,436.22

790. The CIBC Payments were on account of a debt of Hilton Head, an RFE. The CIBC Payments were earmarked by the Debtors to pay CIBC in respect of such debt.

791. The CIBC Payments were transfers of an interest of one or more of the Debtors in property.

792. The Debtors made the CIBC Payments with the actual intent to delay, hinder and defraud any entity to which the Debtors were or became indebted, on or after the date that the CIBC Payments were made. The Debtors received no consideration for the CIBC Payments. Instead, the CIBC Payments were made by the Debtors with the intent to benefit solely the Rigas Family and one or more RFEs.

793. CIBC was the initial and/or immediate or mediate transferee of the CIBC Payments.

794. At all times relevant hereto, there were actual creditors of the Debtors that made the CIBC Payments. These creditors have the right to void the CIBC Payments under applicable law, including, but not limited to, the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the States of New York, Texas, North Carolina and Illinois.

795. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 544(b) and 550 of the Bankruptcy Code, the CIBC Payments should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates.

THIRTIETH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Avoidance and Recovery of Constructively Fraudulent Transfers Under 11 U.S.C. §§ 544(b) and 550 Against CIBC)

796. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 and 789 as if fully set forth herein.

797. The CIBC Payments were made on account of debts owed by Hilton Head, an RFE. The CIBC Payments were earmarked by the Debtors to pay CIBC in respect of such debt.

798. The CIBC Payments were transfers of an interest of one or more of the Debtors in property.

799. The Debtors made the CIBC Payments when they: (i) were insolvent or were rendered insolvent, (ii) were engaged or were about to engage in business or a transaction for which any property remaining was an unreasonably small capital, and/or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that they would incur, debts that would be beyond their ability to pay as such debts matured.

800. CIBC was the initial and/or immediate or mediate transferee of the CIBC Payments.

801. At all times relevant hereto, there were actual creditors of the Debtors that made the CIBC Payments. These creditors, among others, have the right to void the CIBC Payments under applicable law, including, but not limited to, the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the States of New York, Texas, North Carolina and Illinois.

802. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 544(b) and 550 of the Bankruptcy Code, the CIBC Payments should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates.

806. In making the Margin Loan Payments, the Debtors intended to delay, hinder and defraud any entity to which the Debtors were or became indebted, on or after the date that such payments were made. The Debtors received no consideration for the Margin Loan Payments. To the contrary, the Margin Loan Payments were made for the sole purpose of benefiting the Rigas Family.

807. The Margin Lenders knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Rigas Family intended to cause Adelfia to repay the Margin Loans and that Adelfia and its creditors received no consideration from the Margin Loan Payments.

808. By virtue of the foregoing, pursuant to sections 548 and 550 of the Bankruptcy Code, all Margin Loan Payments made on or within one year preceding the Petition Date should be avoided, recovered, and preserved for the benefit of the Debtors' estates.

THIRTY-SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Violation of the Bank Holding Company Act Against the Agent Banks and the Investment Banks)

809. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

810. Each of the Agent Banks is either or both of the following: (a) an insured bank as defined in section 1813(h) of title 12 of the United States Code, or (b) an institution organized under the laws of the United States, a State, the District of Columbia or any territory of the United States which both accepts demand deposits or deposits that the depositor may withdraw by check or similar means for payment to third parties or others, and is engaged in the business of making commercial loans.

811. Each of the Agent Banks is a "bank" within the meaning of sections 1841(c) and 1971 of title 12 of the United States Code.

812. Each of the Investment Banks and its affiliated Agent Bank is a subsidiary of the same bank holding company.

813. At various times herein, the Agent Banks conditioned their extensions of credit to the Debtors, and/or fixed or varied the consideration thereof, and/or otherwise required the Debtors in conjunction with the foregoing to obtain some additional credit, property, or service from a bank holding company of such bank or from, among other entities, the Investment Banks.

814. As a result of the activities of the Agent Banks, the Debtors have suffered damage.

815. Pursuant to section 1975 of title 12 of the United States Code, the Debtors are entitled to recover an amount that is three times the amount of the damages sustained in an amount to be determined at trial, plus costs and attorneys' fees.

THIRTY-THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Equitable Disallowance of Defendants' Claims or, Alternatively, Equitable Subordination Under 11 U.S.C. § 510(c) Against all Defendants)

816. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

817. As alleged herein, each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders and each of the Investment Banks engaged in wrongful conduct directed towards the Debtors and its arms-length creditors.

818. Each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders entered into the Co-Borrowing Facilities and authorized funding thereunder despite actual knowledge, or reckless disregard, of the fact that the Co-Borrowing Facilities were fraudulently structured to give the Rigas Family access to billions of dollars (for which the Co-Borrowing Debtors would remain liable), that the Rigas Family intended to, and did, use those funds for their own benefit, and that the Debtors concealed the true extent of their liabilities under the Co-Borrowing Facilities. The Co-Borrowing Lenders were similarly aware of the fraudulent uses of the Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities as alleged herein.

819. Prior to the consummation of the Co-Borrowing Facilities, each of the Agent Banks conducted extensive due diligence on behalf of themselves and the other Co-Borrowing Lenders. Similarly, the Agent Banks obtained extensive due diligence about the Debtors from the Investment Banks that underwrote one or more securities offerings on behalf of the Debtors.

After each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities closed, the Agent Banks and the other Co-Borrowing Lenders obtained compliance certificates from the Debtors as required by the Co-Borrowing Agreements. Upon information and belief, the Agent Banks were authorized to obtain compliance certificates and other information on behalf of the other Co-Borrowing Lenders as well. Upon information and belief, the Agent Banks were obligated to, and did, transmit to the other Co-Borrowing Lenders compliance certificates and other information about the Co-Borrowing Debtors' borrowings under the Co-Borrowing Facilities and other indebtedness. To the extent that any of the Co-Borrowing Lenders or the NCB Lenders did not know of, or recklessly disregard, the massive fraud at the Debtors, the knowledge and wrongful conduct of the Agent Banks should be imputed to each of the other Co-Borrowing Lenders and the NCB Lenders by virtue of the agency relationship among them.

820. For their part, the Investment Banks earned hundreds of millions of dollars of fees providing structured finance advice to Adelphia and underwriting and marketing Adelphia's securities. In the process, each of the Investment Banks induced purchasers of those securities to rely on various offering materials that were materially misleading.

821. Indeed, at all times during the marketing of Adelphia's securities, each of the Investment Banks either knew, recklessly disregarded, or were intentionally blind to the fact that the offering materials contained material misrepresentations and omissions regarding the business and financial condition of the Debtors, including, without limitation, the extent of the Debtors' leverage. Indeed, none of the offering materials made any disclosure of the extensive fraud the Rigas Family was perpetrating at Adelphia, including the failure to disclose the true amounts outstanding under the Co-Borrowing Facilities. The Investment Banks induced investors to rely on those false and deceptive representations about the Debtors' financial condition in making their decisions to extend credit to Adelpia and other Debtors by purchasing debt securities.

822. Moreover, many of the Investment Banks had their purportedly independent analysts issue knowingly or recklessly misleading reports on Adelpia's securities to inflate the market value of the Rigas Family's holdings, the bonds issued by Adelpia and its direct and indirect subsidiaries, and the portion of the Debtors' credit facilities that their affiliated Agent Banks were selling in the secondary loan market.

823. Thus, with respect to the wrongful conduct directed at the Debtors and their arms-length creditors, each Investment Bank and its affiliated Agent Bank acted as a single unit. Indeed, many of the Investment Banks and the Agent Banks held themselves out to the Debtors as unitary organizations offering underwriting and related financial advisory services, along with traditional credit banking services.

824. Each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders acted callously and with reckless disregard of the consequences of its inequitable conduct. Each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders intended to syndicate all or a substantial portion of its interest in the Co-Borrowing Facilities to other institutions. By and through the syndication, each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders attempted to eliminate the significant risk of exposure to the continuing fraud being perpetrated by the Rigas Family.

825. Moreover, the Co-Borrowing Lenders assisted the Rigas Family in creating the fraudulent structure of the Co-Borrowing Facilities or ratified this fraudulent structure through their participation in the Co-Borrowing Facilities, and took advantage of the fraudulent structure for their own personal gain.

826. At all relevant times, the Debtors had significant obligations to make principal and interest payments to the holders of public debt securities issued by Adelphia and certain of its direct and indirect subsidiaries. As a holding company, Adelphia relied almost exclusively on the cash flow generated from cable subscribers at its indirect operating subsidiaries to fulfill those payment obligations.

827. Upon information and belief, with the assistance of certain of the Co-Borrowing Lenders, the Rigas Family caused the Debtors to structure each of the Debtors' credit facilities, including the Co-Borrowing Facilities, so that all borrowings would be made by Adelphia's indirect operating subsidiaries, not the parent holding company, Adelphia. In this way, all revenues generated by the Debtors' operations -- revenues that the Debtors' bondholders relied upon for payment of principal and interest -- would first be available to the Debtors' lenders, including Defendants.

828. Because the Rigas Family intended to use the Co-Borrowing Debtors' credit to access billions of dollars from the Co-Borrowing Facilities, and knew that the Co-Borrowing Lenders would only give them such access if an Adelphia-related entity remained liable for amounts used by the Rigas Family, the Rigas Family gave the Co-Borrowing Lenders priority over creditors of Adelphia's indirect holding company subsidiaries for repayment of the obligations fraudulently incurred by the Rigas Family under the Co-Borrowing Facilities by structuring the Co-Borrowing Facilities so that all borrowings occurred at the operating subsidiary level.

829. Each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders knew of the fraudulent manner in which the Rigas Family structured the Co-Borrowing Debtors' participation in the Co-Borrowing Facilities. Indeed, upon information and belief, in light of Adelpia's significant public debt, the Co-Borrowing Lenders would not have approved the Co-Borrowing Facilities absent the purported priority afforded to them by the fraudulent structuring of such facilities. Each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders approved each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities, and their participation in other Adelpia-related credit facilities, based upon, among other things, the structural priority that the Co-Borrowing Lenders purportedly would have over Adelpia's bondholders for repayment of the loans.

830. Defendants' misconduct similarly has damaged all of the Debtors' arms-length unsecured creditors, who extended credit without knowledge of Defendants' actions and who, unlike Defendants, played no role in damaging the Debtors. Indeed, without the Defendants' inequitable conduct, the Debtors' arms-length unsecured creditors would not have acquired Adelpia's securities or extended credit to the Debtors.

831. If the Co-Borrowing Lenders' claims for payment were allowed, those claims would consume a substantial portion of the value of the Debtors' estates, while the Debtors' arms-length creditors -- who invested pursuant to false and deceptive offering materials -- and other unsecured claims, will receive a substantially smaller distribution.

832. The Investment Banks' involvement in the deceptive marketing of Adelpia's securities and the Co-Borrowing Lenders' consummation of the Co-Borrowing Facilities at a senior level to the interests of the Debtors' arms-length creditors constituted inequitable conduct and reduced those creditors' chances of being repaid in full, or in substantial part, on their claims.

833. The Co-Borrowing Lenders received an unfair advantage over the Debtors' arms-length creditors by virtue of their misconduct. The Co-Borrowing Lenders agreed to provide the Co-Borrowing Facilities on the condition that the Investment Banks receive lucrative underwriting engagements from Adelphia. The Co-Borrowing Lenders made loans pursuant to the Co-Borrowing Facilities knowing that the Debtors' arms-length creditors would be the first to incur losses from any expected deterioration in the Debtors' value. The Co-Borrowing Lenders' favorable treatment is a result of the inequitable conduct of the Defendants. Therefore, if the Co-Borrowing Lenders' claims are not disallowed or equitably subordinated to those of the Debtors' arms-length creditors, the Co-Borrowing Lenders will be unjustly enriched and the Debtors' arms-length creditors will be financially damaged.

834. There are substantial assets at the Debtors including, but not limited to, equipment, accounts receivable, human resources, contract rights, avoidance actions and derivative actions that could be used to satisfy the claims of unsecured creditors if the Co-Borrowing Lenders' claims are equitably disallowed or subordinated.

835. Equitable subordination of each of the Co-Borrowing Lender's claims is consistent with the Bankruptcy Code.

836. By reason of the foregoing, (a) Plaintiffs are entitled to judgment equitably disallowing the Investment Banks and the Co-Borrowing Lenders' claims in their entirety; or, alternatively, (b) pursuant to Section 510(c) of the Bankruptcy Code, Plaintiffs are entitled to judgment (i) subordinating the Investment Banks and the Co-Borrowing Lenders' claims to the prior payment in full of the claims of unsecured creditors of the Debtors, including, but not limited to any intercompany claims, and (ii) preserving the liens granted under the Co-Borrowing Facilities for the benefit of the Debtors' estates.

THIRTY-FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Recharacterization of Debt as Equity Against the Co-Borrowing Lenders)

837. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

838. At least $2 billion of the proceeds of the Co-Borrowing Facilities were used by the Rigas Family to finance the purchases of Adelpia's common and preferred stock and to maintain voting control over the Debtors (the "Co-Borrowing Stock Purchases"). Most, if not all, of the Co-Borrowing Stock Purchases were disclosed to the public as equity contributions by the Rigas Family. In economic reality, the Co-Borrowing Stock Purchases were sham transactions because the Rigas Family used the Co-Borrowing Facilities to finance the purchases rather than contributing new capital to the enterprise.

839. At the time of the Co-Borrowing Stock Purchases, the Co-Borrowing Lenders knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Debtors were undercapitalized. The Debtors lacked sufficient capital to conduct their businesses and operations in the ordinary course of business.

840. The Co-Borrowing Lenders knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Rigas Family was using the proceeds of the Co-Borrowing Facilities for the Co-Borrowing Stock Purchases with the ultimate purpose of maintaining voting control. In connection with these purchases, the Rigas Family would fraudulently record an increase in shareholders' equity on the Debtors' financial statements and a decrease in the amount of the Debtors' indebtedness under the Co-Borrowing Facilities. The indebtedness from such uses of the Co-Borrowing Facilities would be shifted to an RFE, notwithstanding the fact that the Debtors remained liable for all draw downs under the Co-Borrowing Facilities. The Co-Borrowing Lenders knew of or recklessly disregarded this course of conduct.

841. Because of their consent to the Co-Borrowing Stock Purchases and the misrepresentations to third parties about the economic reality of these transactions, the Co-Borrowing Lenders should be estopped from claiming that the Co-Borrowing Stock Purchases by the Rigas Family were anything other than what the Rigas Family and the Debtors characterized them to be: equity contributions to Adelphia.

842. By virtue of the foregoing, the Court should recharacterize that portion of the Co-Borrowing Facilities used for the purchase of stock as an equity contribution to Adelphia, which portion Plaintiffs believe is at least $2 billion.

THIRTY-FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Recharacterization of Debt as Equity Against the Century -TCI Lenders)

843. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

844. In October and November 2001, at least $400 million of the proceeds of the Century-TCI Facility were used by the Rigas Family to finance the close of the Rigas Family's purchases of Adelphia's common stock and convertible bonds to maintain voting control over the Debtors (the "Century-TCI Purchases"). Adelphia and the Rigas Family mischaracterized the Century-TCI Purchases in their public disclosures as equity contributions by the Rigas Family. In economic reality, the Century-TCI Purchases were sham transactions because the Rigas Family used the Century-TCI Facility to finance the purchases rather than contributing new capital to the enterprise.

845. At the time of the closing of the Century-TCI Purchases, the Century-TCI Lenders knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Debtors were undercapitalized. At that time, the Debtors lacked sufficient capital to conduct their businesses and operations in the ordinary course of business.

846. In connection with the Century-TCI Purchases, in January 2001 the Rigas Family recorded an increase in shareholders' equity on the Debtors' financial statements and a corresponding receivable of equal amount owing to the Debtors from the RFE purchaser of the securities. The Rigas Family at that time intended to close this transaction (i.e., pay the receivable when it came due in October 2001) with co-borrowed funds.

847. In October 2001, however, the Co-Borrowing Facilities had reached their limits, and no liquidity was available to close the transaction. Consequently, the Rigas Family caused the Debtors instead to draw on the liquidity available under the Century-TCI Facility to extinguish the receivable and close the Century-TCI Purchases. Citibank and the other Century-TCI Lenders knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Rigas Family was using the proceeds of the Century-TCI Facility for the Century-TCI Purchases.

848. Because of their consent to, and/or role in the facilitation of, the Century-TCI Purchases and the misrepresentations to third parties about the economic reality of these transactions, Citibank and the other Century-TCI Lenders should be estopped from claiming that the Century-TCI Stock Purchases by the Rigas Family were anything other than what the Rigas Family and the Debtors characterized them to be: equity contributions to Adelphia.

849. By virtue of the foregoing, the Court should recharacterize that portion of the Century-TCI Facility used for the purchase of stock as an equity contribution to Adelphia, which portion Plaintiffs believe is at least $400 million.

THIRTY-SIXTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Breach of Fiduciary Duty Against the Agent Banks and the Investment Banks)

850. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

851. A relationship of trust and confidence existed between the Debtors and each of the Agent Banks and Investment Banks as a result of, among other things, the roles each of the Agent Banks and Investment Banks played in the Debtors' financial affairs as, among other things, the Debtors' lenders, underwriters and financial advisors.

852. As a result, each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks owed the Debtors fiduciary duties of good faith, fidelity and undivided loyalty.

853. As a result of the conduct alleged herein, each of the Agent Banks breached its fiduciary duties to the Debtors by, among other things, approving participation in each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities and authorizing funding thereunder despite actual or constructive knowledge that: (i) the Co-Borrowing Facilities were fraudulently structured to give the Rigas Family access to billions of dollars on the Debtors' credit (for which the Debtors would remain liable); (ii) the Rigas Family intended to use funds from the Co-Borrowing Facilities for their own purposes with no benefit to the Debtors; and (iii) the Rigas Family was causing Adelphia to fail to disclose the true extent of its liability under the Co-Borrowing Facilities.

854. As a result of the conduct alleged herein, each of the Investment Banks breached its fiduciary duties to the Debtors by, among other things, underwriting Adelpia's securities offerings and failing to fully inform Adelpia's independent Board of Directors despite actual or constructive knowledge that: (i) the Co-Borrowing Facilities were fraudulently structured to give the Rigas Family access to billions of dollars on the Debtors' credit (for which the Debtors would remain liable); (ii) the Rigas Family intended to use funds from the Co-Borrowing Facilities for their own purposes with no benefit to the Debtors; and (iii) the Rigas Family was causing Adelpia to fail to disclose the true extent of its liability under the Co-Borrowing Facilities.

855. In pursuing a fraudulent course of conduct, each member of the Rigas Family and Brown and Mulcahey acted in a manner that was adverse to the interests of the Debtors. However, the Rigas Family, Brown and Mulcahey were not the "sole actors" with respect to the Debtors. Rather, there were independent directors at Adelpia who would have brought the activities of the Rigas Family, Brown and Mulcahey to an abrupt halt had they been properly and timely advised by any of the Agent Banks or the Investment Banks.

856. The conduct of each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks was wrongful, without justification or excuse and contrary to generally accepted standards of morality. In addition, the acts and omissions of each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks were committed with actual malice and/or a wanton and willful disregard of the Debtors' rights and, in light of the parties' relationship, represent unconscionable and unjustifiable conduct.

857. Moreover, the conduct of each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks harmed the public generally because, among other things: (i) public investors and arms-length creditors relied upon Adelphia's public filings, which each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks knew were inaccurate with respect to Adelphia's liabilities under the Co-Borrowing Facilities; (ii) the offerings underwritten by the Investment Banks involved numerous investors that publicly traded Adelphia's securities shortly after the initial offerings; (iii) Adelphia's public investors and arms-length creditors relied on each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks to conduct itself prudently and without conflicts of interest; and (iv) each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks knew that it was advising the members of the Rigas Family, who owed fiduciary duties to Adelphia's shareholders and other public investors. Each of the Agent Banks authorized its participation in, and funding under, the Co-Borrowing Facilities, and each of the Investment Banks participated in underwritings of Adelphia's securities, despite its knowledge or reckless disregard of the wrongful conduct of the Rigas Family.

858. By reason of the foregoing, the Debtors have been damaged in the amount of at least $5 billion, or such other amount to be determined at trial.

THIRTY-SEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Aiding and Abetting Breach of Fiduciary Duty Against the Agent Banks and the Investment Banks)

859. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

860. Each member of the Rigas Family breached his fiduciary duties to the Debtors as officers and directors of Adelphia by, among other things, causing the Debtors to enter into the fraudulently structured Co-Borrowing Facilities, causing certain RFEs to draw down in excess of $3.4 billion under the Co-Borrowing Facilities to be used for the sole benefit of the Rigas Family, using such funds for purposes that provided no benefit to the Debtors, and failing to fully inform the independent members of Adelphia's Board of Directors of the circumstances surrounding such conduct.

861. Each of Brown and Mulcahey breached his fiduciary duties to the Debtors as officers of Adelphia by, among other things, causing the Debtors to enter into the fraudulently structured Co-Borrowing Facilities, causing certain RFEs to draw down in excess of $3.4 billion under the Co-Borrowing Facilities to be used solely for the benefit of the Rigas Family, and failing to fully inform the independent members of Adelphia's Board of Directors of the circumstances surrounding such conduct.

862. As a result of the conduct alleged herein, each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks aided and abetted the foregoing breaches of fiduciary duties by substantially assisting in those breaches with knowledge of their unlawfulness.

863. In pursuing a fraudulent course of conduct, each member of the Rigas Family and Brown and Mulcahey acted in a manner that was adverse to the interests of the Debtors. However, the Rigas Family, Brown and Mulcahey were not the "sole actors" with respect to the Debtors. Rather, there were independent directors at Adelphia who would have brought the activities of the Rigas Family, Brown and Mulcahey to an abrupt halt had they been properly and timely advised by any of the Agent Banks or the Investment Banks.

864. The conduct of each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks was wrongful, without justification or excuse and contrary to generally accepted standards of morality. In addition, the acts and omissions of each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks were committed with actual malice and/or a wanton and willful disregard of the Debtors' rights and, in light of the parties' relationship, represent unconscionable and unjustifiable conduct.

865. Moreover, the conduct of each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks harmed the public generally because, among other things: (i) public investors and arms-length creditors relied upon Adelphia's public filings, which each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks knew were inaccurate with respect to Adelphia's liabilities under the Co-Borrowing Facilities; (ii) the offerings underwritten by the Investment Banks involved numerous investors that publicly traded Adelphia's securities shortly after the initial offerings; (iii) Adelphia's public investors and arms-length creditors relied on each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks to conduct itself prudently and without conflicts of interest; and (iv) each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks knew that it was advising the members of the Rigas Family, who owed fiduciary duties to Adelphia's shareholders and other public investors. Each of the Agent Banks authorized its participation in, and funding under, the Co-Borrowing Facilities, and each of the Investment Banks participated in underwritings of Adelphia's securities, despite its knowledge or reckless disregard of the wrongful conduct of the Rigas Family.

866. By reason of the foregoing, the Debtors have been damaged in the amount of at least $5 billion, or such other amount to be determined at trial.

THIRTY-EIGHTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Aiding and Abetting Fraud Against the Agent Banks and the Investment Banks)

867. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

868. As a result of the conduct alleged herein, each member of the Rigas Family and each of Brown and Mulcahey made fraudulent misrepresentations and omissions of material facts by, among other things, causing the Debtors to enter into the fraudulently structured Co-Borrowing Facilities and failing to disclose to Adelphia's independent Board of Directors the true purpose and effect of the facilities, causing certain RFEs to draw down in excess of $3.4 billion under the Co-Borrowing Facilities to be used for the sole benefit of the Rigas Family, using such funds for purposes that provided no benefit to the Debtors, and failing to fully inform the independent members of Adelphia's Board of Directors of the circumstances surrounding such conduct.

869. Each member of the Rigas Family and each of Brown and Mulcahey made such representations and omissions of material facts with the actual intent that the Debtors rely upon them.

870. The Debtors reasonably relied upon such representations and omissions of material fact to their detriment.

871. As a result of the conduct alleged herein, each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks aided and abetted the foregoing fraudulent conduct by substantially assisting in such conduct with knowledge of its unlawfulness.

872. In pursuing a fraudulent course of conduct, each member of the Rigas Family and Brown and Mulcahey acted in a manner that was adverse to the interests of the Debtors. However, the Rigas Family, Brown and Mulcahey were not the “sole actors” with respect to the Debtors. Rather, there were independent directors at Adelphia who would have brought the activities of the Rigas Family, Brown and Mulcahey to an abrupt halt had they been properly and timely advised by any of the Agent Banks or the Investment Banks.

873. The conduct of each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks was wrongful, without justification or excuse and contrary to generally accepted standards of morality. In addition, the acts and omissions of each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks were committed with actual malice and/or a wanton and willful disregard of the Debtors' rights and, in light of the parties' relationship, represent unconscionable and unjustifiable conduct.

874. Moreover, the conduct of each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks harmed the public generally because, among other things: (i) public investors and arms-length creditors relied upon Adelphia's public filings, which each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks knew were inaccurate with respect to Adelphia's liabilities under the Co-Borrowing Facilities; (ii) the offerings underwritten by the Investment Banks involved numerous investors that publicly traded Adelphia's securities shortly after the initial offerings; (iii) Adelphia's public investors and arms-length creditors relied on each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks to conduct itself prudently and without conflicts of interest; and (iv) each of the Agent Banks and each of the Investment Banks knew that it was advising the members of the Rigas Family, who owed fiduciary duties to Adelphia's shareholders and other public investors. Each of the Agent Banks authorized its participation in, and funding under, the Co-Borrowing Facilities, and each of the Investment Banks participated in underwritings of Adelphia's securities, despite its knowledge or reckless disregard of the wrongful conduct of the Rigas Family.

875. By reason of the foregoing, the Debtors have been damaged in the amount of at least $5 billion, or such other amount to be determined at trial.

THIRTY-NINTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Gross Negligence Against The Agent Banks)

876. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

877. By virtue of its fiduciary duty, special relationship and/or superior knowledge with respect to the Debtors, each of the Agent Banks owed a duty to the Debtors (i) to act with reasonable care in the course of its duties and responsibilities as lenders, and (ii) to keep the Debtors fully informed of material facts concerning its services.

878. Each of the Agent Banks breached its duty by, among other things, approving participation in each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities and authorizing funding thereunder despite actual or constructive knowledge that (i) the Co-Borrowing Facilities were fraudulently structured to give the Rigas Family access to billions of dollars on the Debtors' credit (for which the Debtors would remain liable), (ii) the Rigas Family intended to use funds from the Co-Borrowing Facilities for their own purposes with no benefit to the Debtors, and (iii) the Rigas Family was causing Adelphia to fail to disclose the true extent of its liability under the Co-Borrowing Facilities.

879. Each of the Agent Banks breached its duties to the Debtors so that its affiliated Investment Bank could earn millions of dollars of transaction fees for underwriting and financial advisory services in connection with Adelphia's issuance of securities.

880. The conduct of each of the Agent Banks caused the Debtors and the Debtors' arms-length creditors significant harm. Among other things, had any of the Agent Banks disclosed to Adelphia's independent directors the material information it possessed with respect to, among other things, the fraudulent structure of the Co-Borrowing Facilities, the Rigas Family's fraudulent use of co-borrowing funds and the Rigas Family's failure to cause Adelphia to accurately disclose its liabilities under the Co-Borrowing Facilities, Adelphia's Board of Directors would not have authorized such facilities.

881. Thus, as a result of each of the Agent Bank's breaches, the Debtors became insolvent, further insolvent, inadequately capitalized and/or unable to pay its debts as they would become due in the ordinary course of its business and affairs.

882. The conduct of each of the Agent Banks was wrongful and without justification or excuse. In addition, the acts and omissions of each of the Agent Banks were committed with actual malice and/or a wanton and willful disregard of the Debtors' rights and, in light of the parties' relationship, represent unconscionable and unjustifiable conduct.

883. Moreover, the conduct of each of each of the Agent Banks harmed the public generally because, among other things: (i) public investors and arms-length creditors relied upon Adelphia's public filings, which each of the Agent Banks knew were inaccurate with respect to Adelphia's liabilities under the Co-Borrowing Facilities; (ii) the offerings underwritten by the each of the Agent Bank's affiliated Investment Bank involved numerous investors that publicly traded Adelphia's securities shortly after the initial offerings; (iii) Adelphia's public investors and arms-length creditors relied on each of the Agent Bank's affiliated Investment Bank to conduct itself prudently and without conflicts of interest; and (iv) each of the Agent Banks knew that it was advising the members of the Rigas Family, who owed fiduciary duties to Adelphia's shareholders and other public investors. Each of the Agent Banks participated in the Co-Borrowing Facilities despite its knowledge or reckless disregard of the wrongful conduct of the Rigas Family.

884. By reason of the foregoing, the Debtors have been damaged in the amount of at least $5 billion, or such other amount to be determined at trial.

FORTIETH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Gross Negligence Against The Investment Banks)

885. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

886. By virtue of its fiduciary duty, special relationship and/or superior knowledge with respect to the Debtors, each of the Investment Banks owed a duty to the Debtors (i) to act with reasonable care in the course of its duties and responsibilities as underwriters and/or financial advisors, and (ii) to keep the Debtors fully informed of all material facts concerning its services.

887. Each of the Investment Banks breached its duties by, among other things, underwriting Adelphia's securities offerings and failing to keep Adelphia's independent Board of Directors fully informed of all material facts despite actual or constructive knowledge that (i) each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities were fraudulently structured to give the Rigas Family access to billions of dollars on the Debtors' credit (for which the Debtors would remain liable), (ii) the Rigas Family intended to use funds from the Co-Borrowing Facilities for their own purposes with no benefit to the Debtors, and (iii) the Rigas Family was causing Adelphia to fail to disclose the true extent of its liability under the Co-Borrowing Facilities.

888. Each of the Investment Banks breached its duties to the Debtors so that it could earn millions of dollars of transaction fees for its underwriting and financial advisory services in connection with Adelphia's issuance of securities.

889. The conduct of each of the Investment Banks caused the Debtors and the Debtors' creditors significant harm. Among other things, had any of the Investment Banks disclosed to Adelphia's independent directors the material information it possessed with respect to, among other things, the Rigas Family's fraudulent use of co-borrowing funds and the Rigas Family's failure to cause The Debtors to accurately disclose its liabilities under the Co-Borrowing Facilities, Adelphia's Board of Directors would not have authorized such facilities.

890. Thus, as a result of each of the Investment Bank's breaches, the Debtors became insolvent, further insolvent, inadequately capitalized and/or unable to pay its debts as they would become due in the ordinary course of its business and affairs.

891. The conduct of each of the Investment Banks was wrongful, without justification or excuse and contrary to generally accepted standards of morality. In addition, the acts and omissions of each of the Investment Banks were committed with actual malice and/or a wanton and willful disregard of the Debtors' rights and, in light of the parties' relationship, represent unconscionable and unjustifiable conduct.

892. Moreover, the conduct of each of each of the Investment Banks harmed the public generally because, among other things: (i) public investors and arms-length creditors relied upon Adelphia's public filings, which each of the Investment Banks knew were inaccurate with respect to Adelphia's liabilities under the Co-Borrowing Facilities; (ii) the offerings underwritten by the Investment Banks involved numerous investors that publicly traded Adelphia's securities shortly after the initial offerings; (iii) Adelphia's public investors and arms-length creditors relied on each of the Investment Banks to conduct itself prudently and without conflicts of interest; and (iv) each of the Investment Banks knew that it was advising the members of the Rigas Family, who owed fiduciary duties to Adelphia's shareholders and other public investors. Each of the Investment Banks participated in underwritings of the Debtors' securities, despite its knowledge or reckless disregard of the wrongful conduct of the Rigas Family.

893. By reason of the foregoing, the Debtors have been damaged in the amount of at least $5 billion, or such other amount to be determined at trial.

FORTY-FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Unjust Enrichment Against the UCA/HHC Lenders)

918. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

919. The UCA/HHC Lenders approved the UCA/HHC Facility and authorized funding thereunder despite their knowledge that, among other things: the structure of the UCA/HHC Facility allowed the Rigas Family to use proceeds of the facility for their own benefit, with no benefit to the Debtors; the RFE co-borrowers contributed a disproportionately small number of the assets from which the UCA/HHC Lenders could expect repayment; and the Rigas Family intended to, and in fact did, use funds from the UCA/HHC Facility for their own purposes, with no benefit to the Debtors.

920. Despite their knowledge, at the closing of the UCA/HHC Facility, the UCA/HHC Lenders received the UCA/HHC Security Interests and, thereafter, received principal and interest payments from the Debtors on funds drawn down by the Rigas Family, for which the Debtors received no benefit. Moreover, the UCA/HHC Lenders seek to recover from the Debtors principal and interest payments on amounts drawn by the Rigas Family under the UCA/HHC Facility, for which the Debtors received no benefit.

the Debtors for amounts drawn under the UCA/HHC Co-Borrowing Facility by the Rigas Family.

924. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

925. The CCH Co-Borrowing Lenders approved the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility and authorized funding thereunder despite their knowledge that, among other things: the structure of the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility allowed the Rigas Family to use proceeds of the facility for their own benefit, with no benefit to the Debtors; the RFE co-borrower contributed a disproportionately small number of the assets from which the CCH Lenders could expect repayment; and the Rigas Family intended to, and in fact did, use funds from the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility for their own purposes, with no benefit to the Debtors.

Moreover, the CCH Lenders seek to recover from the Debtors principal and interest payments on amounts drawn by the Rigas Family under the CCH Co-Borrowing Facility, for which the Debtors received no benefit.

FORTY-SEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Unjust Enrichment Against the Olympus Lenders)

930. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

931. The Olympus Lenders approved the Olympus Facility and authorized funding thereunder despite their knowledge that, among other things: the structure of the Olympus Facility allowed the Rigas Family to use proceeds of the facility for their own benefit, with no benefit to the Debtors; the RFE co-borrower contributed a disproportionately small number of the assets from which the Olympus Lenders could expect repayment; and the Rigas Family intended to, and in fact did, use funds from the Olympus Facility for their own purposes, with no benefit to the Debtors.

932. Despite their knowledge, at the closing of the Olympus Facility, the Olympus Lenders received the Olympus Security Interests and, thereafter, received principal and interest payments from the Debtors on funds drawn down by the Rigas Family, for which the Debtors received no benefit. Moreover, the Olympus Lenders seek to recover from the Debtors principal and interest payments on amounts drawn by the Rigas Family under the Olympus Facility, for which the Debtors received no benefit.

FORTY-EIGHTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Equitable Estoppel Against the Co-Borrowing Lenders)

936. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1 through 530 as if fully set forth herein.

937. As alleged herein, each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders and each of the Investment Banks engaged in wrongful conduct directed towards the Debtors and its arms-length creditors.

938. Each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders entered into the Co-Borrowing Facilities and authorized funding thereunder despite actual knowledge, or reckless disregard of the fact, that the Co-Borrowing Facilities were fraudulently structured to give the Rigas Family access to billions of dollars (for which the Co-Borrowing Debtors would remain liable), that the Rigas Family intended to, and did, use those funds for their own benefit, and that the Debtors concealed the true extent of their liabilities under the Co-Borrowing Facilities. The Co-

Borrowing Lenders were similarly aware of the fraudulent uses of the Non-Co-Borrowing Facilities as alleged herein.

939. Prior to the consummation of the Co-Borrowing Facilities, each of the Agent Banks conducted extensive due diligence on its own behalf and on behalf of the other Co-Borrowing Lenders. Similarly, each of the Agent Banks approved participation in the Co-Borrowing Facilities to obtain millions of dollars of investment banking fees for its affiliated Investment Bank, and obtained extensive due diligence about the Debtors from its Investment Bank (which underwrote one or more of the Debtors' securities offerings). After each of the Co-Borrowing Facilities closed, the Agent Banks and the other Co-Borrowing Lenders obtained compliance certificates from the Debtors as required by the Co-Borrowing Agreements. Upon information and belief, the Agent Banks also were authorized to obtain compliance certificates and other information on behalf of the other Co-Borrowing Lenders. Upon information and belief, the Agent Banks were obligated to, and did, transmit to the other Co-Borrowing Lenders information about the Co-Borrowing Debtors' borrowings under the Co-Borrowing Facilities and other indebtedness. To the extent that any of the Co-Borrowing Lenders did not know of, or recklessly disregard, the massive fraud at the Debtors, the knowledge and wrongful conduct of the Agent Banks should be imputed to each of the other Co-Borrowing Lenders by virtue of the agency relationships among them.

940. For their part, the Investment Banks -- as a result of, among other things, the efforts of the Agent Banks -- earned hundreds of millions of dollars of fees providing structured finance advice to Adelphia and underwriting and marketing Adelphia's securities. In the process, each of the Investment Banks induced purchasers of those securities to rely on various offering materials that were materially misleading.

941. Indeed, at all times during the marketing of Adelphia's securities, each of the Investment Banks either knew, recklessly disregarded or were intentionally blind to the fact that the offering materials contained material misrepresentations and omissions regarding the business and financial condition of the Debtors, including, without limitation, the extent of the Debtors' leverage. Indeed, none of the offering materials made any disclosure of the extensive fraud the Rigas Family was perpetrating at Adelphia, including the failure to disclose the true amount of the Co-Borrowing Obligations. The Investment Banks induced investors to rely on those false and deceptive representations about the Debtors' financial condition in making their decisions to extend credit to Adelphia and other Debtors by purchasing debt securities.

942. Moreover, each of the Investment Banks had its purportedly independent analysts issue knowingly misleading reports on Adelphia's securities to inflate the market value of the Rigas Family's holdings, the bonds issued by Adelphia and its direct and indirect subsidiaries, and the portion of the Debtors' credit facilities that its affiliated Agent Bank was selling in the secondary loan market.

943. Thus, with respect to the wrongful conduct directed at the Debtors and their arms-length creditors, each Investment Bank and its affiliated Agent Bank acted as a single unit. Indeed, many of the Investment Banks and the Agent Banks held themselves out to the Debtors as unitary organizations offering underwriting and related financial advisory services, along with traditional credit banking services.

944. Moreover, each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders intended to syndicate all or a substantial portion of their interest in the Co-Borrowing Facilities to other institutions. By and through the syndication, each of the Co-Borrowing Lenders attempted to eliminate the significant risk of exposure to the continuing fraud being perpetrated by the Rigas Family.

945. The foregoing conduct amounts to a knowing misrepresentation and/or concealment of material facts from the independent members of Adelphia's Board of Directors, with the intention that the Debtors act upon such conduct.

946. As alleged above, the independent members of Adelphia's Board of Directors lacked knowledge of the true facts and would have taken action to thwart the foregoing conduct had they been fully informed. Indeed, the independent members of Adelphia's Board of Directors -- and thus, the Debtors -- relied upon the conduct of the Co-Borrowing Lenders and the Investment Banks by, among other things, approving the Co-Borrowing Facilities and continuing to allow the Debtors -- and, as a result of the foregoing fraudulent conduct, the Rigas Family -- to draw funds thereunder.

947. By reason of the foregoing inequitable conduct, the Co-Borrowing Lenders should be estopped from retaining and enforcing the Co-Borrowing Security Interests, from retaining principal and interest payments made by the Debtors in respect of amounts drawn down under the Co-Borrowing Facilities for the benefit of the Rigas Family, and from seeking to recover outstanding principal and interest payments from the Debtors with respect to funds drawn under the Co-Borrowing Facilities for the benefit of the Rigas Family.
